Simpson College Student Handbook

Why Are You a Simpson Student?

Every student will have their own answer to this question. Whether you hope to receive a stimulating academic challenge, find a career, meet new friends, or enjoy the campus atmosphere, it is important that you identify your goals and expectations in order to receive full benefit of your Simpson experience.

There are reasons for attending college that may not be clear to you until years after your graduation. Taking tests, meeting deadlines, solving roommate conflicts and making personal decisions are all routine aspects of student life. Your experience in each of these activities contributes to your overall ability to meet the responsibilities and challenges of life beyond the campus. The sense of confidence that you build through your experiences may be as significant to you in the future as your major and degree.

Back to Top

Building A Record

Students often view their college years as a temporary "time out" from the "real world." In some ways a college community is a protected environment where there are many more support structures than are available outside the campus. However, the wise student will realize that they're building a reputation by their actions and achievements that will follow them the rest of their lives. Your record as a student will serve you best if it demonstrates qualities such as scholarship, responsibility, cooperation and leadership. Future employers will be impressed if your resume reflects an active campus life that includes positive attitudes and achievements. Most important of all, the record you build in college has a strong influence on the way you perceive your own abilities and self-respect.

Back to Top

Expectations

Every community must have rules to protect the rights of its citizens and to facilitate the goals of the society. The overall philosophy of the governing structure at Simpson is the premise that an academic community must have an atmosphere that is conducive with the educational mission of the college. It is the responsibility of all members of the Simpson community to meet the college's expectations for appropriate behavior and compliance with campus rules. As a student, it is important that you are aware of the standards of conduct that have been adopted by your college.

Academic Policies (general)

Simpson's academic program challenges you to learn more about the world and your purpose within it. Your principal guides in that learning are the college faculty. When you need help in planning your academic work or in meeting the demands of individual courses or academic projects, the faculty are always your first resource. Get to know your teachers, in class and out. Central among the faculty is your academic advisor. You should meet with him or her regularly, not only to select future courses but also to think through your developing sense of direction and vocation for college life and after. Beyond your advisor, there are other academic guides who can help you:

1. The Senior Vice-President and Dean for Academic Affairs, who oversees the full academic program, including the hiring and development of faculty;
2. The Registrar who oversees course scheduling;
3. The Director of Hawley Academic Resource Center, who oversees tutoring, study skills sessions, and services for students with special learning needs.

For more information about the academic program, see the Simpson College Catalog.

Academic Integrity Policy (03/23/10)

In all endeavors, Simpson College expects its students to adhere to the strictest standards of honesty and integrity. In keeping with the College's mission to develop the student's critical intellectual skills, while fostering personal integrity and moral responsibility, each student is expected to abide by the Simpson College rules for academic integrity. Academic dishonesty includes (but is not limited to) any form of cheating, plagiarism, unauthorized collaboration, fraud (falsifying documents, forging signatures, altering records, etc.), misreporting any absence as college-sponsored or college-sanctioned, submitting a paper written in whole or in part by someone else, or submitting a paper that was previously submitted in whole or in substantial part for another class without prior permission. If the student has any questions about whether any action would constitute academic dishonesty, it is imperative that the he or she consult the instructor before taking the action.

All cases of substantiated academic dishonesty must be reported to the student's academic advisor and the Dean for Academic Affairs.

Penalties for Dishonesty

Academic Dishonesty within the Context of a Course

The penalty for academic dishonesty that occurs within the context of a specific course and is substantiated by firm evidence is: failure of the course; failure of the assignment; or the requirement that the work be redone with a substituted assignment.

The instructor may choose from the above options to reflect how knowing, intentional, or serious he or she judges the incident to be.

If the instructor determines that the student shall fail the course, and even if that decision is made within the withdrawal period, the student may not withdraw, and the faculty member will immediately enter a grade of "F" for the course. If the instructor determines that the student will not automatically fail the course, but must redo the assignment, and it is within the withdrawal period, the student may withdraw from the course.

Academic Dishonesty outside the Context of a Course

If a student is suspected of committing academic dishonesty outside the context of a course (e.g., fraud involving college documents and/or records that do not involve a course), and it has been substantiated with evidence, the Academic Dean shall then decide whether to place the student on academic probation, academic suspension or academic dismissal depending upon the severity of the case. Records of the case and the subsequent punishment will be kept in the student's file as a permanent record.

Repeat Offenses

Upon the second report of substantiated academic dishonesty, the Academic Dean will convene the Academic Appeals Committee to recommend appropriate punishment, which may include academic probation, suspension, or dismissal. The decision of the Academic Dean is final.

Suspected Academic Dishonesty

In cases of suspected academic dishonesty that cannot be substantiated by evidence, the instructor may give the student a warning and may require the student to redo the assignment. In a case where academic dishonesty is strongly suspected but cannot be substantiated, the instructor will issue a formal warning, along with a report to the academic advisor and the Academic Dean. Repeated instances of suspected academic dishonesty may lead to appropriate disciplinary action, including academic probation, suspension, or dismissal, at the discretion of the Academic Dean.

In addition to the above sanctions, the college reserves the right to take additional action as it deems appropriate.

Appeal

If a student wishes to appeal a charge of substantiated academic dishonesty, he or she may request a hearing before the Academic Appeals Committee. The student(s) shall present to the Registrar of the College a written appeal stating clearly what is being appealed and the rationale. The instructor shall present the evidence to the committee. The committee's decision shall be final. Academic Dean.

Academic Questions

See the Office of Academic Affairs. Hillman Hall, second floor, ext. 1720.

Back to Top

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to be present at regularly scheduled meetings of classes and laboratories. The privilege of being excused from class or making up work missed because of absence from the class is granted wholly at the discretion of the instructor.

The instructor has the obligation of explaining to his/her class at the first meeting of the group his/her particular requirement as far as class attendance is concerned. Instructors report to the office of the registrar and the office of financial assistance the names of students who have excessive absences for no apparent reason. That office likewise will report to the faculty appropriate information available concerning student absences. Faculty members should make a point of being prompt in their arrival for lectures and discussion periods and hold the students to the same promptness in class attendance.

Change of Registration

8.1.2 CHANGE OF REGISTRATION: (revised 5/23/11 faculty meeting) Once a student has registered in a course, he/she is considered a member of that class unless he/she drops or withdraws from it as described below. Before the first day of class, students can change their registration using the online registration system. It is recommended that students consult with their advisor before making any change in registration.

8.1.3 COURSE DROP POLICY: (revised 5/23/11 faculty meeting) Within the first five (5) school days of the fall or spring semester, the first two (2) days of May Term or comparable period for other terms, courses may be dropped without any record on the transcript. The days a student may drop a course is called the "drop period." In order for a request to drop a course to be properly processed in the registrar's office, the signature of the advisor is required on the appropriate drop form.

8.1.4 COURSE ADD POLICY: (revised 5/23/11 faculty meeting) Within the first five (5) school days of the fall or spring semester, the first two (2) days of May Term or comparable period for other terms, students may add open courses. During this "add period," students may add a closed course only by obtaining the instructor's signature on an Add Course form and submitting that form in person to the registrar's office. In order for a request to add a course to be properly processed in the registrar's office, the signature of the advisor is required on the appropriate add form. Independent study applications (180, 280, 380) and course by arrangement forms must be received by the registrar's office before the end of the add period.

Courses that require auditions, such as theatre and music production courses, may be added after the add period with the instructor's permission.

Applications for 319 internships may be submitted after the add period, but must be processed before the work for the internship begins.

In all other cases, if circumstances require a student to add a course after the add period, the student must submit an academic petition, available online, with a rationale and signature of the instructor.

It is recommended that the student consult the academic advisor and instructor of the course before adding any course.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Standards for Financial Assistance

Students receiving financial assistance are expected to maintain satisfactory academic progress during their enrollment at Simpson College. Satisfactory academic progress is achieved when a student maintains both the required grade point averages and the required completion rate. Students who fail to maintain satisfactory academic progress may have their financial aid suspended. Refer to the Simpson College website for specific information on the Satisfactory Academic Progress Standards for Financial Aid.

Back to Top

Standards of Classroom Behavior

The primary responsibility for managing the classroom environment rests with the faculty. Students who engage in any prohibited or unlawful acts that result in disruption of a class may be directed by the faculty member to leave the class for the remainder of the class period. Longer suspensions from a class, or dismissal on disciplinary grounds, must be preceded by a disciplinary conference or hearing similar to the procedures for academic dishonesty as outlined above.

The term “prohibited acts” would include behavior prohibited by the instructor (e.g., persistent speaking out without being called upon, refusing to be seated, disrupting the class by leaving and entering the room without authorization, etc.). It must be emphasized that this provision is not designed to be used as a means to punish classroom dissent. The lawful expression of disagreement with the instructor is not in itself disruptive behavior.

Back to Top

Voluntary Withdrawal from a Course

8.2.1 WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES: (revised 5/23/11 faculty meeting) After the “drop period,” a student may elect to withdraw from a course but not later than the 14th school day following midterm, at which time the designation of “W” (withdrawn) is placed on the transcript. The “W” has no effect on the student’s grade point average.

A full-time student who withdraws from courses to complete fewer than 12 credits for two consecutive semesters will be enrolled as a part-time student the third consecutive semester. Students who withdraw from the college or interrupt their registration for any reasons, and who wish to return to the college, must apply for readmission to the college through the dean for academic affairs.

Back to Top

Voluntary Withdrawal from College

Students who find it necessary to discontinue enrollment either during or at the end of any semester or term, should file a withdrawal form in the Office of Student Development. A withdrawal form protects the academic record in that a grade of "W" is recorded for any course in progress at the time of a student’s departure from the college. Partial refunds of tuition and board costs are computed based on the date the withdrawal is completed up to 60% point in the term, and financial assistance is returned following the same formula. There are no refunds in tuition, room, or board beyond the 60% point in the term.

Students who plan to withdraw from Simpson following completion of the semester in which they are currently enrolled must notify the Office of Student Development by July 1 for a change in fall semester plans and December 31 for a change in spring semester plans in order to be eligible for a refund of their security/continuing enrollment deposit. The tuition refunds and financial assistance returns policy is subject to federal regulations. Other questions regarding refund and financial assistance return policies should be directed to the Business Office or Office of Financial Assistance.

Alcohol Policy

Philosophy guiding Simpson College’s Alcohol Policy

Simpson College's mission is characterized through its commitment to an educational philosophy based on student wholeness. The development of clearly identified intellectual skills and a sense of personal integrity, moral responsibility, social justice, sensitivity, and citizenship are all-important components of a Simpson liberal arts education. Out of this background, the administrators, faculty members, staff and student leaders believe it is their obligation to establish an alcohol policy which supports the mission of the college and allows students to wrestle with the issues of alcohol and substance use and abuse in a manner which promotes responsible decision making as a pattern for the rest of the student's life.

As an educational institution, we place a great deal of responsibility on you, the student. The decision to use or not use alcohol should be yours and yours alone. Peer pressure to use alcohol will not be tolerated. It is the view of the College that the illegal use and or abuse of alcohol may be detrimental to students’ health, safety and academic success. For those who do choose to use alcohol, Simpson College strongly encourages students to exercise a responsible use and approach to alcohol. Though a responsible use approach is difficult to strictly define, the following activities guide Simpson College’s thinking in this area.

The responsible student will:

- Make an informed decision if choosing to consume alcohol.
- Know, understand and conform to federal, state, and local laws and Simpson College regulations on alcohol use. (The College will not provide sanctuary to those persons who violate the laws of the state or nation.)
- Recognize that they are responsible for their behavior (and those of their guests) and accept the consequences for their actions. The use of alcohol is not an excuse for irresponsible behavior.

- Maintain control and not disturb others on or near the college community.
- Will not make alcohol only a focus in their activities. Consuming alcohol just to consume or to get intoxicated is not a responsible use of alcohol.
- Provide that alcohol is not interfering with the rest of their Simpson College experience. (i.e. academically successful and socially capable without use of alcohol).
- Not pressure other students to consume alcohol. Pressure means direct and indirect verbal and non-verbal pressure to consume alcohol.
- Counsel and/or confront those students whose use of alcohol is damaging to themselves or the community and refer them to the Office of Student Development for additional assistance.

Back to Top

Federal, State and Local Government Requirements

Summaries of the laws of the State of Iowa, which govern the use and possession of alcohol and relate specifically to members of the College community, are as follows:

- a) No one can be intoxicated or simulate intoxication in a public place.
- b) A person under age 21 cannot have any alcoholic beverage in their possession or control except in a private home and with the knowledge and consent of the parent or guardian.
- c) No person can misrepresent his or her age for the purpose of obtaining alcohol.
- d) No person shall sell, dispense, or give to any intoxicated person or one simulating intoxication, any alcoholic beverage.
- e) No one can have open containers of alcohol in a motor vehicle on a public street.
- f) No one can use or consume hard liquor in a public place.
- g) No one can use or consume any liquor at an elementary or secondary school or on any elementary or secondary school premises.
- h) No one can sell or give alcohol to a minor (with the exception stated above regarding alcohol in a private home with the knowledge and written consent of a parent or guardian.)
- i) No one shall operate a motor vehicle on a public street while intoxicated.

The penalty for the violation of any of the above crimes (except an OWI) is up to 30 days in jail or up to $100 fine, except if someone gives alcohol to a person 19 or 20, the fine is $665.

The penalty for OWI varies depending on whether it is a first offense, second offense, the age of the offender, etc. Anyone under 21 who is caught driving with a blood alcohol content of .02 or more will lose their driver's license or permit for up to 60 days or until age 21. Temporary driving permits for school, work, or any reason, will not be allowed during the suspension period. Realize that .02 is a very small amount - as little as one beer or drink. For persons 21 and over with a blood alcohol content of .08 or more, the penalty for first offense is 48 hours in jail and a minimum fine of $500 plus a 30% surcharge. There is also a loss of driver's license privileges for roughly 6 months. For second offense, the fine can be up to two years in prison; payment of a fine of not less than $750 plus surcharge of 30%; and loss of license that can range up to several years.

Back to Top

Simpson College Requirements

I. Age and Space Restrictions

- a) Only students who have attained the legal drinking age of 21 years may possess or consume alcoholic beverages in select designated individual college private living quarters (i.e. students' rooms with their door closed) and at other selected and pre-approved locations as determined by the Office of Student Development.
- b) While the consumption of alcoholic beverages is allowed in some individual students' rooms, these areas are not designed to accommodate large groups of people. Alcoholic beverages may be consumed by small groups of students of legal drinking age in appropriately designated individual student rooms with the door closed. A group consisting of no more than 2 guests per resident of the room but never totaling more than 12 people in a room is permitted. Any group of 12 or more where alcohol is present constitutes an unregistered party and is therefore subject to disciplinary action.

II. Alcohol-Free Areas

- a) Alcohol is not allowed in public areas which include, but is not limited to, the following:
 - Bill Buxton stadium; Cowles Center; or any Simpson College athletic facility or field;
 - Residence hall lounges, stairwells, computer rooms, laundry rooms and hallways;

- Apartment building hallways, balconies, stairwells, laundry/lounge/vending areas;
 - Any exterior location (lawn, steps, patio, deck, etc.) of a theme house or apartment;
 - Within and around college-owned Greek housing, including stairwells, parking lot, hallways, roof, deck, and yard;
 - Any and all outside locations; or any other Simpson facility unless specifically designated in an approved event registration form.
- b) Kresge Hall, Barker Hall, Buxton Hall, Kappa Theta Psi, Picken Hall, Station Square Apartments and Worth Hall are substance-free living areas. Alcohol is not allowed in those residence halls or apartments. This includes empty containers and items that lead to an “assumption of consumption.”
 - c) Those persons who do not drink have the right to live on the campus and attend social events without pressure to consume alcohol.
 - d) Students who choose to live in alcohol and drug-free living areas should have the right to do so.
 - e) Every attempt will be made to create alcohol free living spaces for all students who request it and for all new students. Although the College will identify appropriate space within existing housing facilities, students should realize that living in an alcohol free space is in no way a guarantee that the residents of this area will not be exposed to alcohol and or the behavior associated with alcohol use.
 - f) The residents of these substance-free areas will have responsibility for ensuring that the designated spaces do remain alcohol free.

III. Behavioral Expectations

- a) Any use of alcohol which endangers the welfare of self and/or others or which results in offensive behavior or disorderly conduct is unacceptable to the community and will be subject to disciplinary action.
- b) Due to the goals and purposes of the academic community, drunken behavior/intoxication, which is disrespectful, disruptive and potentially harmful, is not acceptable on campus or at College sponsored events. Drunken behavior/intoxication is defined as observed loss of mental or physical coordination as a result of the consumption of alcoholic beverages. Persons who have consumed alcohol off-campus are expected to return to their room in an orderly manner.
- c) Each student is responsible for his or her own behavior at all times and under all circumstances.
- d) Any student who invites a guest who is not enrolled in Simpson College onto campus assumes the responsibility of insuring that his or her guest will act in an appropriate manner as well as abide by all College policies. Should the guest of a Simpson student violate the alcohol policy, the host student will be held socially and financially responsible for any offenses committed by that guest.
- e) Violators of the alcohol policy will be subject to specified disciplinary consequences.
- f) Exceptions to these regulations may be granted through special requests made to the Vice President for Student Development and/or the President.

IV. Beverages and Container Requirements

- a) Kegs of beer, party balls or common source containers of alcohol one gallon or larger are not allowed anywhere on the campus. This restriction includes individual residence hall/fraternity rooms.
- b) Drinking and/or possessing alcoholic beverages (open containers) in a public place/area, designated alcohol free area or campus common area or other non-approved location is prohibited and subject to disciplinary action.
- c) Transportation of alcoholic beverages to and from rooms must be in sealed containers.
- d) Students should note that the possession of alcoholic beverage containers, either full or empty, will be taken as a presumption of use and possession, and, as such, may be considered policy violations. Students may also be held accountable, even if they do not have actual possession of alcohol, when they are present at alcohol-related events; or they may be accountable if they, in some other way, are in “constructive” possession of alcohol (parallel to Iowa Code on possession), or illegal substances.
- e) Display of alcohol-related advertising materials (including bottles) in student housing windows or areas outside the privacy of the student’s room is not permitted. Students are expected to promptly dispose of trash such as can’s bottles, and boxes from all hallways.

V. Events and Event Registration Guidelines

- a) Individual students or student organizations wishing to host a social event where alcohol will be consumed may do so by registering prior to the start of the event according to guidelines established by the Office of Student Development.
- b) Social events must be registered in advance with the host(s) completing the necessary event registration form.
- c) No alcohol may be served at all-campus functions.
- d) An unregistered gathering of people where alcohol is present in a public place, individual college private living quarters (i.e. students' rooms), or other campus locations limited to no more than 12 people total are considered violations of policy by individuals. An unregistered gathering of people in a public place, residence hall/fraternity house, or other campus locations where alcohol may be present that consists of more than 12 people will be considered an unregistered party and is prohibited.
- e) Alcoholic beverages are prohibited at membership recruitment functions of any College recognized organization (e.g. fraternities, sororities or honoraries) or at events where potential members are invited or to attend.

Statement of Intervention and Treatment

The policy of Simpson College reflects the belief that alcohol and other forms of drug addiction are serious illnesses which are usually preceded by a history of substance abuse with inappropriate and destructive behavior patterns. In view of this, the College is committed to assist any member of the student community whose behavior shows signs of alcohol/drug abuse or addiction.

This policy is established to provide the means for the College to identify and refer students who suffer from alcohol or other drug abuse or addictions to treatment alternatives. Intervention is intended where alcohol or other drug use is a contributing factor in one or more of the following:

1. Disruptive and/or nuisance behavior
2. Excessive intoxication
3. Civil or criminal offenses
4. Destruction of property
5. Non-attendance at class
6. Deterioration of academic performance
7. Sexual assault or harassment in which alcohol or other drug use was a factor

Where alcohol or other drug abuse is suspected, any interested party having first-hand knowledge of the situation or event in question may refer the student to the Office of Student Development, wherein an informal assessment on the merits of the referral will be made. If the assessment suggests further action, every effort will be made by that office to encourage voluntary cooperation on the part of the student with the intervention and assessment processes recommended by the College. Should treatment alternatives be proposed by professional/evaluation staff, the College would make every effort to encourage voluntary cooperation on the part of the student.

Students, who by their behavior, are uncooperative, or who so request, will be granted an informal hearing to review the assessment recommended by the Office of Student Development. The hearing, should it be required, will focus on the specific behavioral and/or "use" problems that have been observed and reported. The student will be given an opportunity to respond to these reports, after which the Vice President for Student Development or his or her designee will make a final decision as to whether a formal assessment/ evaluation for substance abuse by a substance abuse professional is required.

The students failure to attend the hearing, or to follow through with the formal assessment/evaluation (if so required) or any subsequent treatment recommendations made by a substance abuse professional, will result with the student being withdrawn from classes at Simpson.

Re-entry into the college will be permitted only upon successful completion of substance abuse treatment and establishment of an ongoing recovery program such as Alcoholics Anonymous or Narcotics Anonymous.

When, in the judgment of a staff person, a student is transported for medical attention or monitoring in response to alcohol or other chemical use, the involved student will be responsible for any costs incurred.

Health Risks Associated with the Use of Alcohol and Other Drugs

Alcohol is the most abused drug in society as well as on college campuses. Alcohol is directly involved in many injuries, assaults and the majority of deaths in people under age 25. Other commonly abused illegal drugs include marijuana, cocaine, stimulants, hallucinogens, depressants, narcotics, steroids and inhalants. Legal drugs such as caffeine, nicotine, over-the-counter and prescription drugs also have wide use and associated health risks.

Health risks of using alcohol or other drugs include both physical and psychological effects. The health consequences of drugs depend on the frequency, duration and intensity of use. For all drugs, there is a risk of overdose. Overdose can result in coma, convulsions, psychosis or death. Combinations of certain drugs, such as alcohol and barbiturates, can be lethal. The purity and strength of doses of illegal drugs are uncertain.

Continued use of substances can lead to tolerance (requiring more and more of a drug to get the same effect), dependence (physical or psychological need) or withdrawal (a painful, difficult and dangerous symptom when stopping use of drugs). Long-term chronic use of drugs can lead to malnutrition, organic damage to the body and psychological problems. The risk of AIDS and other diseases increases if drugs are injected. The consumption of alcohol or drugs by pregnant women may cause abnormalities in babies. For more information about the risks associated with the use of alcohol and other drugs, individual may contact the Associate Dean of Students, Director of Campus Security, College Nurse, or Counseling Services office.

Financial Obligations

Student Accounts

Before the beginning of each term, the Business Office will send each student an estimated bill showing the total charges for the term and the financial aid expected to be credited to the student account for the term. The estimated bill will be mailed on July 22 for the fall term and on December 1 for the spring term. Fall term balances are due to be paid by August 16, 2011 and spring term balances are due to be paid by December 31, 2011.

For parents or students who wish to pay their account by credit card, the College accepts MasterCard, American Express, and Discover. In addition, students may access their account balance online through StormFront and make secure payments by ACH or credit card. A convenience fee on credit card payments will apply. There is no charge for ACH payments.

If an account is not paid in full by the due date, the College regards the account as delinquent unless satisfactory financial arrangements have been made with the Business Office. Students with accounts considered delinquent are not entitled to future registration, room, board or issuance of transcripts.

Finance charges are assessed at a daily rate of 0.05% (18% A.P.R.) on the unpaid balance. Finance charges are calculated at the end of the month and added to the student's account.

Books are sold at the Simpson College Bookstore and may be purchased by cash, check or credit card (MasterCard, Visa, American Express or Discover). Students should be prepared to pay approximately $900 each year for books.

Monthly Payment Plan

The College offers a monthly payment plan for those who prefer to budget the annual cost of tuition, room, board and fees in monthly installments.

The TuitionPay Plan is administered by a third party payment plan administrator and provides a way to pay educational expenses through manageable monthly installments. The TuitionPay Plan may be tailored to cover all or part of the financial obligations for the academic year. The TuitionPay Plan is not a loan. Thus, there are no interest charges. The only cost is an annual nonrefundable participation fee of $55 for the year. With the TuitionPay Plan, monthly installments can be automatically deducted from a designated checking account or charged to a credit card. This eliminates the worry of remembering to make payments each month and avoids the assessment of late fees by the payment plan administrator. Of course, monthly installments can be billed directly. Prepayments may occur at any time without penalty.

Questions regarding the TuitionPay Plan may be directed to the Business Office. To enroll in the TuitionPay Plan, visit www.simpson.edu/businessoffice/tpp.

Credit Balances

Federal regulations require credit balances created by Title IV funds to be refunded to the student within 14 days. Students who want credit balances retained by Simpson College for the academic year must give written authorization to the Business Office.

Matriculation Fee and Deposit

Upon acceptance, all full-time students must pay $200 which covers the $100 matriculation fee and $100 enrollment deposit. This deposit is not refundable after May 1, 2011.

The $100 enrollment deposit, however, may be refunded when enrollment terminates and all financial obligations to the College have been satisfied.

Board Plans

All full-time residential students must have a board plan. Simpson College offers four board plans.

- The 20-Meal board plan allows students to eat every meal available at the dining hall.
- The 14-Meal board plan allows students to eat any 14 meals during a one week period.
- The 12-Meal Flex board plan allows the student to eat 12 meals per week. In addition, this plan provides $200 in points per term, which can be used at Pfeiffer Dining Hall.
- The 6-Meal board plan, which is only available to students who live in apartments and theme houses, allows students to eat any six meals during a one week period. In addition, this plan provides $50 in points per term.

Board passes are identified by a magnetic strip attached to the student identification card.

Students may change their board plans (e.g. from a 20 meal plan to the 12 Flex plan) during the first four weeks of the semester. Meal charges will be pro-rated to reflect the change. Flex points will also be pro-rated.

Tax Benefits

There are tax benefits available to help reduce the financial impact of higher education. For more information, please consult your tax advisor.

Tuition Refunds and Financial Assistance Returns

Dropping Classes for Partial Drops/Change in Enrollment Status

(Tuition adjustments based on enrollment changes not complete withdrawals)

Traditional Semester Day or Night Classes - A student may add and drop courses during the add/drop period of each term. The Business Office and Financial Assistance Office will establish a student's tuition charges and financial assistance based on the student's enrollment status at the end of the add/drop period. After the add/drop period has expired, tuition charges and financial assistance will not be adjusted for courses dropped, except in the case of a complete withdrawal. Tuition adjustments for courses added will continue throughout the term.

Non-traditional Module or Shorter Term Classes and Semester Saturday Classes – A student who drops a course after the first class meeting will be eligible for a 100% refund. A student who drops a course after attending 25% or less of class meetings will be eligible for a 75% refund. A student who drops a course after attending more than 25% of class meetings will not be eligible for a refund. Students are responsible for dropping their own courses.

Complete Withdrawal: A student interested in withdrawing from Simpson College should file a withdrawal form in the Office of the Dean of Students, and make an appointment with the Office of Financial Assistance.

Simpson College engages faculty and staff members in advance for a full academic year. Many other expenses for maintaining the College are likewise commitments of one or more years into the future. Therefore, a student who withdraws does not reduce materially the costs of operating the College.

A student who withdraws before the 60% point in time in the term will receive a refund in tuition, room, board and fees. The amount of the refund is based upon the percentage of the term that has not been completed. Financial aid will be refunded to federal, state and Simpson programs based on the same percentage. Stated simply, a student who withdraws after completing 20% of the term will be charged 20% of the applicable tuition, room, board and fees and would retain 20% of their financial aid. If funds have been released to the student because of a credit balance on the student's account, the student may be required to repay a portion of the federal grant released to the student. Examples of the application of the refund policy are available upon request in the Office of Financial Assistance.

After the 60% point in the term, no refund will be granted nor will financial aid be reduced. The portion of the term completed is based on calendar days from the first day of the term through the last scheduled day of finals, including weekends and breaks that are fewer than 5 days in length.

Students who do not go through the “official” withdrawal process (i.e., leave campus without filing withdrawal papers) will be deemed to have attended through the mid-point in the term, unless the last date of attendance can be documented, and will have their charges and financial aid adjusted accordingly.

This policy is subject to federal regulations. Contact the Office of Financial Assistance for details and to learn of any changes to this policy.

Other Refunds

Room Refunds: Refunds on rooms may be given in the case of a student who, due to illness or other imperative reasons, officially withdraws from the College. No room is refunded after the 60% point in the term.

Board Refunds: Board cancellations are effective one week after notifying the Office of Student Development. Board charges are refunded on a pro-rata basis. No refunds will be issued for unused Flex points at any time. No board is refunded after the 60% point in the term.

May Term Board Refunds: May Term board charges will be refunded for students on a qualified absence from campus during May Term. A qualified absence is defined as one in which the student’s May Term study requires he/she reside off campus. Qualified absences must exceed one week. Board charges are refunded only if a student applies for the refund prior to departure from campus in April.

May Term Trip Refunds: Students are responsible for all direct costs incurred by the College after the payment of the non-refundable application fee. To the extent possible, course instructors and Simpson College will attempt to secure a partial refund for students who withdraw from the program at least 90 days prior to departure and provide written notice of such to the International Education Coordinator. The partial refund to the student will be calculated by Simpson College on an individual student basis and will amount to a maximum of 50% of the direct costs incurred by the College that are recoverable. Within 90 days of the program’s departure, no refund will be calculated or due.

In case of hardship or unforeseen circumstances, the student may appeal the refund calculated per above by providing written notice of appeal to the International Education Coordinator. The appeal will be reviewed by a committee. All decisions made by the appeals committee are final.

If the May Term travel course is cancelled by the College due to uncontrollable circumstances such as acts of war, health risks in the host country, U.S. State Department warnings, or any other reason, the College cannot guarantee, but will attempt to secure a partial refund of the final payment.

Harassment Policy

Simpson College is committed to providing an environment that is free from all forms of discrimination that constitutes harassment. Actions, words, jokes, or comments based on an individual's sex, race, color, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, or any legally protected characteristic will not be tolerated.

Harassment on the basis of sex can constitute discrimination under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX, such harassment is prohibited and may warrant corrective disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal. Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, verbal or written comments, or physical conduct of a sexual nature may constitute sexual harassment. Examples of sexually harassing behavior may include unwelcome or offensive touching, sexually explicit or offensive jokes, graphic or degrading verbal or written comments or questions of a sexual nature.

Harassing behavior may exist when such conduct:

1. is made either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of instruction, employment, or participation in college activities;
2. is used as a basis for evaluation in making academic or personnel decisions affecting an individual; or
3. creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or academic environment.

Conduct shall be defined as being unwelcome when an employee or student does not solicit or incite such conduct and the employee or student, as well as a reasonable person would regard it as undesirable or offensive.

Any student or employee who believes he or she has been harassed should immediately report the incident to a staff member in the Office of the Vice President of Student Development or the Director of Human Resources, respectively. Other college officials who receive a report of harassment should similarly report the matter to the individual identified above.

On receipt of a complaint or report of harassment, an investigation will be conducted and, when appropriate, sanctions and corrective measures will be taken in accordance with applicable college disciplinary options. All investigations will be conducted as discretely as is practicable. Individuals making good faith allegations of harassment and those participating in such investigations will not be subjected to retaliation.

Hazing

Simpson College, in accordance with the state of Iowa's anti-hazing law, defines hazing as any act or action taken, however communicated, involving or resulting in abusive physical contact or mental harassment of a member or prospective member, whether on or off the organization premises, campus, or place where chapters or prospective members meet, designed to, or the result of which is to produce excessive mental or physical discomfort, embarrassment or harassment. Furthermore, hazing is also defined as any action or situation that involves ridicule, any form of verbal or physical harassment or abuse, engaging in public stunts, morally degrading or humiliating behavior of games, food/sleep deprivation, food/alcohol/drug consumption, and threatening in any manner or form for the purpose of cajoling individuals into secrecy in regard to breaches of this statement. Excessive demands on a student's time so as to interfere with academic performance are also prohibited.

Consent by an individual to hazing does not relieve the organization of responsibility. Any chapter found in violation of this hazing policy may be subject to suspension or removal of recognition by the College. No student should ever be in a situation that either is physically or psychologically harmful.

Policy on Tuberculosis Screening

In accordance with the American College Health Association's guidelines on tuberculosis screening, it is Simpson College's policy to require students and other College personnel from high-risk areas of the world, or students and College personnel who have traveled to high-risk areas of the world, or have had exposure to high-risk populations to be screened for tuberculosis within 3 - 6 months of college entrance or within 30 days of returning from travel to high risk areas.

Statement On AIDS

The American Center for Disease Control has issued a determination that Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) is not a highly communicable disease. There are no known cases of AIDS transmission by food, water, casual contact or insects. The current scientific belief is that the AIDS virus is transmitted only when introduced into the recipient's blood. This may occur through sexual intercourse, skin puncture with an infected needle, blood transfusion, prenatal, or contact with mucous membrane or open skin cut or sore. AIDS is now believed to be caused by a retrovirus call Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV). This virus is a very fragile organism, which cannot exist outside the body for any significant time.

The American College Health Association currently recommends that colleges not adopt a blanket policy on AIDS issues. Simpson College will respond to each AIDS or HIV-status situation as required by its own particular facts and medical circumstances. It is the goal of Simpson College to provide an ongoing education program to students, to faculty and other employees about relevant AIDS issues and thus provide a framework for making informed decisions about specific AIDS issues as they may arise. Simpson's AIDS education program will emphasize the following:

Persons with AIDS or who are HIV positive should be treated with support, understanding and with concern for their privacy and confidentiality.

While each AIDS-related situation will be dealt with on an individual basis, taking into account the best available medical advice at the time relevant to the affected individual and others, the college has established some general guidelines for responding to AIDS-related situations on the campus:

Simpson College currently does not question members of the campus community about the existence of AIDS or a positive HIV-antibody test result.

Any member of the campus community who has AIDS or who is HIV positive, whether symptomatic or not, will be allowed regular classroom attendance in an unrestricted manner, so long as she/he is physically and mentally able to attend classes.

Any member of the campus community who has AIDS or who is HIV positive, whether symptomatic or not, will be allowed access to common areas, such as student unions, cafeterias, snack bars, gymnasiums, swimming pools, and recreational facilities. In certain circumstances, special rules may be necessary to protect the health or safety of such persons.

Decisions about residential housing of persons known to have AIDS or who is HIV positive will be made on a case-by-case basis, based on the medical facts of each case, and with concern for confidentiality and the best interests of all parties involved. The best currently available medical information does not indicate any risk to those sharing residence with persons who have AIDS or who are HIV positive. In some circumstances, however, there may be concern for the health of such students when they might be exposed to contagious diseases (such as chicken pox) in a close living situation. Under such circumstances students with AIDS or who are HIV positive may be assigned to private rooms in order to protect their health - - not to protect other students from them.

The confidentiality of information and records regarding the fact that a member of the campus community has AIDS or who is HIV positive, will be maintained in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy ACT of 1974, as amended, and any other applicable law.

AIDS issues and Simpson College's response to such issues will be reviewed annually, taking into account applicable laws and regulations and recommendations issued by the U.S. Public Health Service and Center for Disease Control, the Iowa Department of Public Health, and American College Health Association and other agencies, as well as the advice of appropriate medical authorities.

Simpson College reserves the right to act in the best interest of members of the campus community in the face of a direct threat or significant risk to health or safety that cannot be eliminated by implementation of safeguarding policies, practices or procedures.

Illegal Drugs and Other Controlled Substances

Simpson College prohibits the unlawful manufacture, possession, use, sale, or distribution of illegal drugs and other controlled substances by students and employees on its property or as any part of its officially sponsored activities. The college will cooperate with all law enforcement agencies in the enforcement of laws pertaining to the use and possession of illegal drugs. Violations of this rule will be considered of sufficient seriousness to warrant dismissal from the college. Anyone having information concerning drug traffic on campus should inform a Student Development Staff member, or the Dean of Students.

Drug-Free Workplace

On November 18, 1988, Congress enacted the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988. This statute requires that all grantees receiving grants from any federal agency certify to that agency that they will maintain a drug-free workplace. For purposes of the Act, allocations under the campus-based programs (Federal Perkins Loan Program, Federal Workstudy Program, and Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program) are deemed to be "grants"; and institutions receiving these allocations are deemed to be "grantees". This Act directly affects the federal allocations for Simpson College.

To comply with the Drug-Free Workplace Act, Simpson College must certify that it will provide a drug-free workplace and must notify its students and employees of that fact. This serves to notify all students and employees that "the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in the grantee's (Simpson College's) workplace. Workplace is defined as any location utilized for the operation and or delivery of college activities and services.

Student violations of these prohibitions will be considered infractions of the student code of conduct and may lead to immediate dismissal from the college. Disciplinary procedures and sanctions are described in more complete detail in the Student Handbook.

In addition to notifying students of the impact of this act on their college enrollment, Simpson is also required to establish a drug and substance abuse awareness program. For students, that program is coordinated through the Office of Student Development to help students understand the health risks associated with drug usage. These health risks include damage to the respiratory system, immune system, reproductive system, and brain functions. Frequent usage can cause addiction, coma, and possibly death.

Personal counseling services are available on campus for students who may be having difficulty with drug and alcohol abuse. The college works closely with local substance abuse programs for making student referrals for assessment and treatment.

Should you have any questions regarding the implications of these requirements, please feel free to contact the Vice President for Student Development.

Other Applicable Federal, State, and Local Laws

Summaries of applicable federal, state, and local laws, which govern the use and possession of illegal drugs and other controlled substances violations and relate specifically to members of the College community, are as follows:

- a) Possession of controlled substances, such as narcotics, stimulants, depressants or hallucinogens, carries criminal penalties including imprisonment up to 20 years and fines up to $250,000 under federal laws, depending on the type and quantity of drug and whether it is a first or subsequent offense. Moreover, personal property may be forfeited and federal benefits, such as student loans and grants, may be denied on the first offense.
- b) Under State of Iowa and local laws, simple possession is a serious misdemeanor and criminal penalties may include up to a year imprisonment and/or a fine of up to $1,000.
- c) Trafficking a controlled substance carries criminal penalties, including imprisonment up to life and fines up to $8 million for an individual under federal law, depending on the type and quantity of the drug and whether it is a first or subsequent offense.
- d) Under State of Iowa and local laws, trafficking an illicit drug carries criminal penalties of up to 50 years in prison and up to $1 million in fines, depending on the type and quantity of the drug. Subsequent violations can triple the imprisonment sentence and fine. Moreover, there are special penalties for trafficking to minors.

Statement on Intervention and Treatment and on Health Risks

The statement on intervention and treatment and a statement on health risks associated with alcohol and other illegal drugs can be found in the alcohol policy section of the Simpson College Student Handbook.

Some physiological effects of specific drugs include:

- Marijuana when smoked irritates lung tissue, increasing the risk of lung cancer. It decreases visual perception and psychomotor skills; it adversely affects the reproductive system; it delays onset of secondary sexual characteristics, and it is stored in body tissue for periods of time.
- Cocaine/Crack increases blood pressure, heart and breathing rates and is extremely addictive. It may cause anxiety, brain seizures, and strokes. Chronic snorting can ulcerate the mucous membranes of the nose. There is no antidote for overdose.
- Amphetamines/ Stimulants increase heart rate and blood pressure; stroke and heart failure may result from high doses. Long-term abuse may result in malnutrition and brain damage.
- Hallucinogens (LSD, mushrooms, PCP) have unpredictable effects that vary with individuals; panic reactions are common. Impurities are likely, as with any street drug.
- Depressants/Sedatives/Barbiturates act much like alcohol, by depressing the central nervous system.
- Narcotics/Heroin are opiates used to relieve pain. Tolerance develops quickly, and a user attempting to quit will experience withdrawal symptoms after only a few days of drug use. Infections and AIDS transmission are associated with un-sterile conditions of use.
- Anabolic Steroids suppress gonadotropic functions of the pituitary. Side effects include liver and kidney dysfunction, testicular atrophy, premature closure of bone growth plates, hair loss and acne, and heart failure.

- Inhalants act quickly as anesthetics and slow down body functions. Nausea and nosebleed result from immediate use, while loss of consciousness may result at high doses. Long-term use damages organs and nervous system.
- Caffeine in high doses may cause nausea, diarrhea, sleeplessness, headache and trembling.
- Nicotine may cause cancer of the lungs, larynx and mouth.

Additional information on the health risks of specific drugs may be found at <http://www.simpson.edu/studentlife/studenthandbook08.pdf>.

Off-Campus Program Participation

Simpson College offers students a variety of opportunities for involvement in curricular and co-curricular programs, events, and travel off-campus. All participants in Simpson College sponsored or affiliated off-campus events, programs and travel are subject to all academic and behavioral guidelines and policies as described in the Simpson College Catalog and the Simpson College Student Handbook. Additionally, participants in College sponsored or affiliated off-campus activities may be subject to additional academic and or behavioral requirements as deemed necessary by the College. Additional expectations and requirements for a particular off-campus program, event or travel opportunity will be communicated to students in advance of their participation.

Parental and or Guardian Notification Policy

Simpson College recognizes the student – college relationship as one which is built on the premise that students are adults and as such any matters of concern regarding student progress, behavioral issues and or health and safety issues will be, whenever possible or practical, directly discussed with the student by a college staff or faculty member. These conversations with a student will be treated as confidential and will only involve campus staff or faculty who have an “educational right to know” as prescribed by FERPA guidelines.

The College may contact and or inform a student’s parents or guardian regarding a particular concern when, in the judgment of the college, it is in the overall best interests of the student and or the College to do so. In general, the notification to parents or guardians in matters of behavioral and or health and safety concerns will normally take place when:

- the student has been involved in a second violation of the College’s alcohol policy;
- the student has been involved in a violation of College policy which has caused the student to be placed on disciplinary probation. Students who are on disciplinary probation are subject to suspension and or dismissal from the College if they are involved in any subsequent violation of College policy;
- the student is involved in behavior that has raised concerns for the health and safety of the student.

All notifications to parents or guardians will be in compliance with applicable state and federal laws governing such notification. Notification to parents or guardians will, in most instances, occur by letter from the Vice President for Student Development. The student for whom the letter has been issued will be informed of the official parental or guardian notification. Questions regarding this notification policy and regarding any specific student issues may be directed to the Vice President for Student Development.

Sexual Conduct Policy

Simpson College is committed to providing a learning environment free of all forms of abuse, assault, harassment, and coercive conduct, including sexual misconduct. Sexual misconduct which includes sexual assault is a serious offense. The College encourages students to report sexual assault promptly to local law enforcement agencies. Sexual assault also violates the Simpson College Code of Conduct, and will not be tolerated in this community of trust. The College urges students to report sexual assault under these administrative provisions. The sexual conduct policy includes definitions of terms, prevention information, procedures, and resources available in the event of sexual harassment, sexual assault, or rape. Students, faculty, staff, and consultants continually evaluate the College’s practices and procedures regarding inappropriate sexual conduct.

Simpson College does not tolerate sexual misconduct in any form. Sexually abusive behavior within the college community is harmful to both the learning environment and the sense of community the college is trying to foster among students, faculty, staff, and administrators. All members of the College community have an obligation to act responsibly in the realm of sexuality. This includes accepting personal responsibility for choices made about alcohol and drug consumption which might lead to behavior which violates another person. Additionally, all members of the College community have the responsibility to recognize and challenge any sexual misconduct. The purpose of these policies and procedures is to encourage students to take responsibility for their behavior, to ensure compliance with applicable campus, state and federal regulations, to fairly discipline and sanction behavior that is inconsistent with the Simpson College Code of Conduct, and to educate students about implications and consequences of their behavior.

Simpson students are expected to maintain the highest ethical standards of honesty and respect for others. College students, often away from home for the first time, may be unsure of how to handle situations such as rapidly expanding social circles and a lack of parental restrictions. In the context of intimate relationships, the use of alcohol or other drugs can blur the distinction between consent and manipulation. Non-stranger (date/acquaintance) rape happens most frequently at or after parties. Unfortunately, college age students traditionally take the fewest precautions to prevent rape. Real or perceived power differentials between individuals also may create an atmosphere of coercion that can significantly impair the ability to consent. Being under the influence of alcohol or drugs is not an excuse under these procedures.

The information that follows is designed to provide a clear understanding of expectations and outcomes regarding sexual conduct at Simpson College.

Statement of Policy

Sexual misconduct is not tolerated at Simpson College. It is the policy of the College to provide education to help prevent sexual misconduct through the following measures:

- Inform faculty, staff and students of the procedures for reporting sexual misconduct to the Indianola Police Department and Campus Security.
- Educate faculty, staff and students as to common sense practices which may enable them to avoid becoming victims of sexual misconduct.
- Assure that Campus Security and College personnel are aware of their responsibilities, the College's policy, the laws and potential liabilities when sexual misconduct occurs.
- Inform faculty, staff and students of the counseling services available to victims of sexual misconduct.
- Encourage victims of sexual misconduct to help punish perpetrators through use of the criminal courts.
- Educate faculty, staff and students to be respectful of the limits expressed or implied by their partners in sexual contacts.

Sexual Misconduct Offenses Include, But Are Not Limited To:

Non-consensual sexual intercourse (or attempts to commit same): Non-consensual sexual intercourse is any sexual intercourse (anal, oral, or vaginal), however slight, with any object, by a man or woman upon a man or a woman, without effective consent.

Non-consensual sexual contact (or attempts to commit same): Non-Consensual Sexual Contact is any sexual touching (including disrobing or exposure), however slight, with any object, by a man or a woman upon a man or a woman, without effective consent.

Sexual Exploitation: Sexual Exploitation happens when a student takes non-consensual, unjust or abusive sexual advantage of another for his/her own advantage or benefit, or to benefit or advantage anyone other than the one being exploited, and that behavior does not otherwise constitute one of the other three sexual misconduct offenses.

Examples of sexual exploitation include, but are not limited to, prostituting another student, non-consensual video or audio-taping of sexual activity, going beyond the boundaries of consent (such as letting your friends surreptitiously watch you having consensual sex), engaging in Peeping Tommeary, and knowingly transmitting an STD or HIV to another student.

Sexual Harassment: Sexual harassment may include, but is not limited to, unwelcome sexual advances, request for sexual favors, verbal or written comments or physical conduct of a sexual nature when such conduct: 1) is made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of instruction, employment or participation on college activities; 2) is used as a basis for evaluation in making academic or employment decisions affecting an individual; or 3) creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or academic environment.

Examples of sexually harassing behavior may include unwelcome touching, sexually explicit offensive jokes, graphic or degrading verbal or written comments or questions of a sexual nature. Sexual verbal abuse is defined as using language that is sexual in nature and unwanted on the part of another person. Examples include, but are not limited to, Verbal sexual innuendo, threats, and/or obscene gestures; inappropriate humor and jokes about gender specific traits or sexual orientation; sexual propositions; suggestive or insulting sounds and actions, including, whistling, leering, and obscene gestures; and phone calls or use of written and/or verbal communication that are intimidating, threatening, or obscene in nature. Please refer to the Harassment Policy in Student Handbook for more information on reporting and adjudication procedures involving sexual harassment.

Definition of Common Terms:

Sexual abuse

Iowa law defines "sexual abuse" as follows: Any sex act between persons is sexual abuse by either of the participants when the act is performed with the other participant in any of the following circumstances:

1. The act is done by force or against the will of the other. If the consent or acquiescence of the other is procured by threats of violence toward any person or if the act is done while the other is under the influence of a drug inducing sleep, incapacitated beyond consent, or is otherwise in a state of unconsciousness, the act is done against the will of the other.
2. Such other participant is suffering from a mental defect or incapacity which precludes giving consent, or lacks the mental capacity to know the right and wrong of conduct in sexual matters.
3. Such other participant is a child.

Sex Act

Iowa law defines "sex act" as follows:

"The term sex act means any sexual contact between two or more persons by: penetration of the penis into the vagina or anus; contact between the mouth and genitalia or by contact between the genitalia of one person and the genitalia or anus of another person; contact between the finger or hand of one person and the genitalia or anus of another person...or by use of artificial sexual organs or substitutes therefore in contact with the genitalia or anus."

Intercourse

Intercourse is not synonymous with penetration. If it were, non-consensual French kissing could meet the definition of oral rape; intercourse is more limited. Intercourse includes vaginal penetration by a penis, object, tongue or finger, anal penetration by a penis, object, tongue, or finger, and oral copulation (mouth to genital contact or genital to mouth contact).

Sexual Touching

Sexual touching is any contact with the breasts, buttock, groin, or genitals, or touching another with any of these body parts, or making another touch you or themselves with or on any of these body parts.

Incapacitated Sex

Being drunk is never an excuse for violation of this policy. To have sex with someone who you know to be, or should know to be incapable of making a rational, reasonable decision about a sexual situation is a violation of policy. This includes someone whose incapacity results from taking the so-called "date-rape drug." Possession, use and/or distribution of any of these substances, including Rohypnol, Ketomine, GHB, Burundanga, etc. is prohibited, and administering one of these drugs to another student for the purpose of inducing incapacity is an offense of the most serious nature.

Back to Top

Effective Consent

Effective Consent is informed, freely and actively given, mutually understandable words or actions which indicate a willingness to participate in mutually agreed upon sexual activity. Consent is not effective if it results from the use of physical force, threats, intimidation, or coercion.

Consent may not be given when

Consent which is obtained through the use of fraud or force (actual or implied) whether that force be physical force, threats, intimidation, or coercion, is ineffective consent

- Physical force exists, for example, when someone acts upon you physically, such as hitting, kicking, restraining or otherwise exerting their physical control over you through violence.
- Threat exists where a reasonable person would have been compelled by the words or actions of another to give permission to sexual contact they would not otherwise have given, absent the threat. For example, threats to kill you, themselves, or to harm someone you care for are sufficient to constitute threats.
- Intimidation exists where someone uses their physical presence to menace you, though no physical contact occurs, or where your knowledge of prior violent behavior by an assailant, coupled with menacing behavior, places you in fear as an implied threat.
- Coercion exists when a sexual initiator engages in sexually pressuring and/or oppressive behavior that violates norms of respect in the community, such that the application of such pressure or oppression causes the object of the behavior to engage in unwanted sexual behavior. Coercion may be differentiated from seduction by the repetition of the coercive activity beyond what is reasonable, the degree of pressure applied, and the initiator's knowledge that the pressure is unwanted.

Consent may never be given by

- A minor to an adult. Someone under the age of 16 cannot give consent to someone over the legal age of consent (18), absent a legally valid marriage or court order.
- Mentally disabled persons cannot give consent to a sexual activity if they cannot appreciate the fact, nature, or extent of the sexual situation in which they find themselves.
- Physically incapacitated persons. One who is physically incapacitated as a result of alcohol or other drug consumption (voluntary and involuntary), or who is unconscious, unaware, or otherwise physically helpless, is incapable of giving consent. One may not engage in sexual activity with another who one knows or suspects to be physically incapacitated. Physically incapacitated persons are considered incapable of giving effective consent when they lack the ability to appreciate the fact that the situation is sexual, and/or cannot rationally and reasonably appreciate the nature and extent of that situation.

What You Need To Know About Consent

- At the heart of the idea of consent is the idea that every person, man or woman, has a right – to personal sovereignty—not to be acted upon by someone else in a sexual manner unless he or she gives clear permission to do so.
- Consent can be broad or narrow and can be limited, such as in cases where someone is willing to engage in some forms of sexual activity, but not in others.
- Consent to one form of sexual activity never can imply consent to other forms of sexual activity.
- Consent may be given verbally or nonverbally, based on an active, informed, freely decided choice.
- Consent means you can't make assumptions about what your partner does or does not want. Absence of clear signals means you can't touch someone else, not that you can.
- Consent means two people deciding together to do the same thing, at the same time, in the same way, with each other.
- The idea of consent completely rules out any need to show the use of force, or any type of resistance.
- Consent requires that the person initiating the sexual activity gets permission to do so, and that permission does not exist in the absence of resistance.
- Passively allowing someone to touch you in a sexual manner is not consent.
- There is no duty for an alleged survivor to fight off or act in any way to stop a sexual aggressor.
- There must be a verbal or non-verbal "Yes" in order for any permissible sexual activity to take place.
- There are circumstances, as well, where even when consent is given, it is not valid. Consent would be invalid when forced, threatened, intimidated, coerced, when given by a mentally or physically incapacitated person, or when given by a minor.
- We can't play the game of "If she/he doesn't want it, she'll/he'll stop me." That's based on antiquated resistance requirements. It's not her or his job to resist, but yours to respect her or his boundaries and find out what they are if they are unclear.

- No means no, but nothing also means no. Silence and passivity do not equal permission.
- The idea that kissing always leads to fondling, which always leading to petting, which leads to some sort of intercourse is a notion that is based on stereotypical sexual patterns and beliefs. Mutual exchanges must involve the expectations and desires of each person involved.
- To be valid, consent must be given prior to or contemporaneously with the sexual activity.
- Consent can be withdrawn at any time, as long as that withdrawal is clearly communicated by the person withdrawing it.
- Silence, previous sexual relationships, and/or current relationship with the accused (or anyone else) may not, in themselves, be taken to imply consent.
- Consent cannot be implied by attire, or inferred from the buying of dinner or the spending of money on a date.
- Intentional use of alcohol/drugs by the accused is not an excuse for violation of the sexual conduct policy.
- Consent to sexual activity may be withdrawn at any time, as long as the withdrawal is communicated clearly (because you cannot be expected to read the mind of your sexual partner(s)), and all sexual activity must cease.
- Consent has an expiration date. Consent lasts for a reasonable time, depending on the circumstances.
- Attempts to commit sexual assault or rape are also prohibited under this policy, as is aiding the commission of sexual misconduct as an accomplice.

Tips on Prevention

It can be difficult to discuss sexual expectations with someone—especially when it is early on in a relationship. However, both men and women must take responsibility to prevent rape. Listed below are prevention tips for men and women. Although no single method will make you immune from rape or assault, there are steps you can take to avoid potentially damaging situations.

Responsibilities for Both Men and Women

1. Get to know your partner and discuss sexual expectations before you find yourself in an intimate situation—don't let sex "just happen."
2. Clearly communicate your desires and limits. Don't make assumptions.
3. Avoid excessive use of alcohol.
4. Be assertive. If you say "no," say it clearly.
5. Listen—and hear. Being told "no" is not a rejection of you as a person. You can also say "no."
6. Pay attention to your non-verbal actions.
7. Accept your partner's decision. Don't try to coerce or manipulate.
8. Understand and accept that you are responsible for your behavior and choices.
9. Trust your instincts. If you think something is wrong, you are probably right. Get out of the situation immediately.

If Sexual Misconduct Occurs

If sexual misconduct occurs, many survivors do not know where to turn for help or what steps to take after an assault has been committed. Although the choices about which options to explore rest solely with the affected student, Simpson College encourages students to take the following steps:

- Get to a safe place as soon as possible.
- Contact the Indianola Police Department (9-911). Campus Security should also be notified (x1711 from any campus phone, or activate any of the emergency telephones located around campus).
- Do not blame yourself. Sexual assault is never the survivor's fault. Every attempt will be made to keep the student free from any suggestion that she/he is responsible or was "contributory negligent" or assumed the risk of being a survivor of sexual misconduct.

- Survivors of sexual misconduct are strongly encouraged to seek immediate medical attention at an area hospital or medical clinic. If the survivor wishes, they will be assisted in seeking prompt medical attention with a member of the Simpson College staff accompanying the survivor to a local hospital.
- If at all possible, do not change clothes, shower, bathe, douche, or urinate. Emergency room personnel are trained to check for injuries, as well as collect physical evidence. It is important to preserve evidence as it may be necessary for the proof of criminal sexual misconduct should you decide to pursue charges through the Indianola Police Department. Costs for providing and administering the “rape kit” are incurred by the Iowa Department of Public Health.
- Please be aware that hospital personnel are obligated to contact proper authorities regarding the assault. Although you are not obligated to do so, survivors of sexual misconduct are highly encouraged to take advantage of victim’s services to help you understand your options for off-campus proceedings and to receive counseling specific to your needs.
- The College will do everything possible to provide a climate that is sensitive to and respectful and supportive of individual needs. The student will have access to existing campus counseling and support services and, when appropriate, adjustments will be made to housing assignments, academic schedules, etc.
- Supporting the survivor is of primary consideration, as are exploring options and protecting the individual’s rights. The individual has a right to confidentiality and to determine what options to pursue. Every report of sexual misconduct will be taken seriously and action will be taken as appropriate.

Procedures for Reporting Sexual Misconduct

Confidentiality

When an individual is affected by an incident involving sexual misconduct, sexual assault or sexual harassment within or outside of the Simpson College Community, there are some people s/he can talk to with who can provide completely confidential advice and assistance. They will listen and explain her/his options. Talking to any of the individuals listed as a college confidential option does not constitute reporting the incident except for the statistical reporting required by the federal government (see below). The options for reporting sexual misconduct follow.

Reporting Options

Incidents of sexual misconduct are notoriously underreported on college campuses, often because the victims/survivors do not recognize their experience as a criminal offense and/or a college violation or their lack of knowledge of and/or discomfort with campus and community resources. By seeking assistance and reporting sexual misconduct, you can begin your own healing process and promote the standards of community and respect that are a part of Simpson College. Helping the survivor look at options for reporting the assault/misconduct and taking care of herself/himself are the focus of the following paragraphs. Along with these options, Simpson College strongly encourages a survivor of sexual misconduct to make a report to the Indianola Police Department and to speak with a rape crisis or other counselor, on or off campus.

Sexual assault is a criminal matter. Indianola police officers are trained in handling sexual assault cases. An officer can be dispatched to campus to meet with the person calling, to assist the survivor in obtaining medical attention and emotional counseling, and to write a formal report of the incident. The police report and any supporting evidence are turned over to the Warren County Attorney’s office, which decides whether there is sufficient evidence to prosecute.

College Confidential Options

Simpson College provides campus counselors, chaplains, and health service nurses on campus who can legally keep a sexual assault discussion completely confidential. Campus counselors are available free of charge to help students and can be seen on an emergency basis. In addition, students may choose to consult off-campus members of the clergy, who will also maintain absolute confidentiality. This gives the survivor complete control over her/his own decisions to report. These confidential options will also supply the student with information regarding medical care.

All other employees are not confidential resources and are required by law to report sexual misconduct.

College Official Report

An official College report is a documentation of sexual misconduct/assault. Any individual sexually assaulted by a Simpson College student (on campus, or in a program or activity under Simpson College jurisdiction), or any Simpson College student who is assaulted is encouraged to report the incident formally to one of the following individuals: the Associate Dean of Students; Director of Security; Simpson College Security officers; any "on call" Residence Life staff member; the Dean of Students and any other student development staff member or any other administrator with supervisory responsibility. These people are required by law to file an official report if told about sexual misconduct/assault. After hours, these individuals can be reached through the campus security, which can either connect the caller or provide a home phone number for the particular staff member.

Federal Statistical Reporting Obligations

The Federal Government requires campus law enforcement to publish an annual Campus Security Report describing the types of sexual misconduct incidents that have occurred and their general location (on or off campus or in the surrounding area; no addresses are given). These reports contain statistical information only. All personally identifiable information is kept confidential. This report helps to ensure greater community safety by providing the community with a clear picture of the nature and extent of campus crime. The college requires that all employees provide statistical information to Campus Security.

Federal Timely Warning Reporting Obligations

Victims of sexual misconduct should also be aware that college administrators must issue timely warnings regarding incidents whose perpetrators continue to pose a substantial threat of bodily harm or danger to members of the campus community. The college will make every effort in such cases to ensure that a victim's name and other identifying information is not disclosed, while still providing sufficient information to permit students to make appropriate decisions about their safety. Persons required to report timely warnings are the same persons listed under the preceding "Federal Statistical Reporting Obligations."

Back to Top

The Adjudication Process

The College's adjudication procedures should be viewed as a resource to the survivor of sexual misconduct. Sexual assault and rape are criminal violations and violations of College policy. A student charged with sexual misconduct can be prosecuted under the Iowa Criminal Code and separately adjudicated by the College. Even if the criminal justice authorities choose not to prosecute, a student charged with any type of sexual misconduct will be subject to the College disciplinary process. Hearing procedures and disciplinary sanctions are outlined below.

Back to Top

Initial Steps

As described above, it is possible for a survivor to make a first report to a number of different contact points throughout the college community (Health Center, Counseling Center, Chaplains, Student Development, Campus Security). If, after meeting with any of these contact points, the survivor determines that he or she would like to pursue a college disciplinary hearing, the contact point will direct the student to meet with the Associate Dean of Students.

Once a meeting is arranged, the Associate Dean will outline the options available, including how a conduct hearing will work, along with its possible outcomes. If the survivor decides to make a charge, the Associate Dean will take a written and/or tape-recorded statement of the survivor's account of the incident (or, the survivor may give such a statement directly to Campus Security). The accused student will also be given the opportunity to provide the Associate Dean with a written and/or tape-recorded statement after the charge has been made by the survivor. It should be noted that if Campus Security has already taken a written statement from the survivor and/or the accused, the Associate Dean may use these statements in lieu of the statements mentioned above.

The Associate Dean will then present the accused student with a written statement of the survivor's charges against him or her. The investigation will also generally include interviews and written statements from any witnesses, as well as any other evidence relevant to the incident.

The survivor and accused will be permitted to have their counsel or an advocate present during the interviews and the hearing. Survivors utilizing an advocate should use the same advocate throughout the process.

The Associate Dean will notify the accused student that the hearing board members are being chosen and provide him or her with the date of the hearing. Scheduling of the hearing will be held within 5 working days of the survivor's initiation of charges. If this condition cannot be met, both the survivor and the accused will be notified regarding the status of the case. Both the survivor and the accused will be informed in writing of the hearing format and specific charges.

If the Associate Dean determines that it is in the best interest of either student for safety or other reasons, the accused and/or the survivor will be provided different accommodations. Both students will be instructed to avoid all contact with the other. If these instructions are not heeded, disciplinary action will be taken, including the possibility of immediate suspension from the College and trespass from campus. Additionally, assistance is available for changing academic and living situations after a report of sexual misconduct is filed, if so requested by the survivor and if such changes are reasonably available.

Note: In the context of the College conduct process, the survivor is initiating formal allegations of misconduct. The charges of misconduct remain allegations until a decision is reached by the Sexual Misconduct Review Board.

Back to Top

Composition of the Sexual Misconduct Review Board

The Sexual Misconduct Review Board is composed of administrators and staff members. Board members are appointed by the Dean of Students each fall for a one year term. When selected, all members of the board receive comprehensive training. When it is necessary to convene a Sexual Misconduct Review Board, the Dean of Students will select three people from the pool of board members to hear any given case. Both men and women will comprise the pool and each convened board. The Associate Dean will serve as an exofficio member of the Sexual Misconduct Review Board without vote and will chair the board during the hearing and provide administrative support and clarifications as needed.

The students involved may challenge the composition of the board. The accused and survivor will be notified of the names of those who will serve on the board at the time the hearing is scheduled. If either objects to any member or members of the board, he or she must commit the reasons for the objection to writing. The Dean of Students will review the objection and decide whether the hearing board member(s) should or should not be replaced. Removal from the hearing board will occur only if the Dean of Students is convinced that absence of impartiality or other extenuating circumstances would result from allowing the hearing board member to adjudicate the incident. Any member who personally knows either the accused or the survivor may be excused from the case.

Back to Top

Elements of the Hearing

The hearing will be convened in a private room where there will be no disturbances from other members of the campus community. The hearing will not be open to the public. A record of the hearing (audio tape recording and/or written) will be maintained and made available to the accused and survivor if requested. There will be separate waiting rooms for the accused's witnesses and for the survivor's witnesses. The witnesses should be the same witnesses interviewed as part of the investigation process. The statements from witnesses obtained during the investigation may be submitted in lieu of actual witness testimony.

The survivor and the accused do not need to be present in the hearing room at the same time. Both the survivor and the accused may be present throughout the hearing. Both may present evidence on their own behalf through the presentation of witnesses and/or statements of witnesses. Both may choose a person to accompany them during the judicial proceedings. Both may have advisory participation from counsel. However, such counsel may not serve in an advocacy role in the hearing.

The survivor will present his or her case first, and be able to call witnesses and/or present witness statements. There are some situations in which the survivor cannot or will not present his or her own case. In these situations, the Associate Dean may appoint an administrator to present the case for the College in the survivor's stead. Every attempt will be made for the survivor to have input on the selection that administrator, the survivor still may be present throughout the entire proceeding.

Next, the accused student may present his or her case. Then, the accused can call witnesses and/or present witness statements. The hearing board may recall the survivor, accused students, and any witness at any point to clarify or challenge statements made during the hearing. The hearing board members are allowed to ask questions at any point throughout the hearing. Neither the accused nor the survivor may directly question each other during the hearing. Questions and clarifications must be directed to the board.

Prior sexual behavior/sexual history of the survivor is not relevant and will not be allowed to be presented during the hearing. Hearing board members are obligated to prevent such information from being admitted

Back to Top

The Decision Making Process

Once the hearing is concluded, the board members will, after meeting in closed session, render a decision within 48 hours. However, if they cannot reach a decision in that time, witnesses may be recalled for further questioning. The members of the hearing board have to decide if the accused student's actions meet the College's definition of sexual misconduct.

To establish responsibility, the hearing board must decide that the accused's behavior satisfies the definition of the misconduct to the extent required by the standard of proof in sexual misconduct cases— "more likely than not." Once a decision is made, the Associate Dean of Students will inform the accused student first, then the survivor, in the form of a letter which will include an explanation of the Board's deliberations. They will be informed separately and at different times so that they do not encounter each other.

Back to Top

Sanctions for Sexual Misconduct

Any student found responsible of a charge of sexual misconduct will receive a sanction ranging from warning to expulsion, depending on the severity of the incident, and taking into account any previous disciplinary infractions.

Typical sanctions for each distinction of sexual misconduct are as follows:

- Any student found responsible of a charge of Non-Consensual Sexual Contact (where no intercourse has occurred) will receive a sanction ranging from warning to expulsion, depending on the severity of the incident, and taking into account any previous disciplinary infractions.
- Any student found responsible of a charge of Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse will face a recommended sanction of suspension or expulsion.
- Any student found responsible of a charge of sexual exploitation or sexual harassment will receive a recommended sanction ranging from warning to expulsion, depending on the severity of the incident, and taking into account any previous disciplinary infractions.

For definitions of these terms, see the Judicial Procedures section.

The judicial body, judicial officer, or appeals body reserves the right to broaden or lessen any range of punishments or recommended sanctions in the case of serious mitigating circumstances, egregiously or offensive behavior if other compelling justification exists to do so. If either party believes that a satisfactory resolution of the alleged incident has not been reached by the administrative hearing or the review board adjudication process described above, an appeal of the decision may be made as outlined in the Simpson College Student Handbook.

Back to Top

Educational Programs

Simpson College engages in many programs that promote awareness and prevention of rape and other sex offenses. Written information on sexual misconduct will be distributed regularly to all students. Residence Life staff members and campus security staff members receive training in survivor sensitivity and the college's philosophy and procedures in dealing with sexual misconduct. Student Development provides ongoing campus sexual misconduct awareness programs. The Security Department offers several programs to raise security consciousness and overall safety for members of the college community. Faculty members are encouraged to discuss the issue in their classes and residence life staff sponsor programs for residents. Each year sexual assault awareness and prevention is discussed during new student orientation. Contact Student Development for more information on these programs.

The College maintains the current sexual conduct policy on the web at: <http://www.simpson.edu/studentlife/index.html>

Statement on Student Demonstrations

Students are free to support causes by all orderly means without interference from the college or any part of it so long as their activities do not interrupt the regular business of the college or interfere with the rights of any member of the community. It is for the protection of these activities that this statement is issued. Students have the accompanying responsibility to ensure that any protest or demonstration is consistent with the expectations outlined in the Simpson Code of Conduct. Specifically students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner which respects the rights and property of others. Abuse of another person or conduct which threatens the health or safety of any person is not allowed. Additionally students must respect the on-going program of all aspects of the college including teaching, research, administration, disciplinary procedures and other sponsored or authorized activities on college property. Obstruction or disruption of college activities is not allowed. The college is obligated to maintain an atmosphere conducive to academic work and social responsibility. Any non-peaceful and/or obstructive demonstration, regardless of duration is prohibited. It is recommended that any student, student organization or group of students contemplating a demonstration inquire at the Office of Student Development about procedures which should be followed.

Students with Physical and/or Mental Disabilities (policies & services)

Admission Policy

Simpson College does not discriminate on the basis of disability in the admission or education of students. No otherwise qualified individual shall be excluded, solely by reason of disability, from participating in college programs and activities. Individuals with disabilities are considered for admission to Simpson College on the same basis as all other applicants, and must meet the same academic requirements.

Back to Top

Accessibility of Facilities

Housing facilities are available to accommodate students with physical disabilities. As accessibility issues arise, classrooms and other facilities may be adjusted to meet student needs.

Back to Top

Declaration of a Disability and Request for Accommodation

A qualified student with a disability is entitled to receive a reasonable accommodation as necessary to provide appropriate educational access and opportunity. While reasonable accommodations provide students with appropriate educational access and opportunity, they are not a guarantee of success. It is the responsibility of the student to raise to the college's attention the need for a reasonable accommodation due to a qualifying disability. A student who requests a reasonable accommodation must provide the college with information establishing that the student has a disability that qualifies for reasonable accommodation. This information may be in the form of documentation from medical personnel, educational or school psychologists, or other individuals licensed by the state to diagnose mental or physical disabilities. The costs associated with the diagnosis and medical verification of the disability are generally the responsibility of the student.

The Dean of Students serves as the official point of contact for all matters regarding disability services. A request for reasonable accommodation, with the information verifying the qualifying disability, is to be presented to the Dean of Students Office. A student should contact the Dean of Students or in the case of request for academic accommodations, the Director of the Hawley Academic Resource Center at the start of each academic term in order to request reasonable accommodations. The college will use an informal, interactive process with the student to determine whether the student qualifies for services, to identify the needs that result from a qualifying disability, and to discuss the potential reasonable accommodations that can address those needs. The college reserves the right to make the final determination of the reasonableness and appropriateness of each accommodation considered. If there are multiple reasonable accommodations that will assist the individual, the college will make the final determination as to which accommodation is provided.

Neither the Dean of Students Office nor the Hawley Academic Resource Center will release disability information to other staff or faculty without the student's written permission; however, some accommodations cannot be made without faculty or staff knowledge. All requests for disability accommodations are subject to review with final determination resting with the Dean of Students.

Back to Top

Academic and Non-academic Support Services

All requests for disability services of an academic nature will be reviewed by the Director of the Hawley Academic Resource Center to determine appropriate and reasonable accommodations. Students with disabilities, like all Simpson students, have access to the services available at the Hawley Academic Resource Center. These services include: tutoring, assistance with study skills, assistance with time management and stress management skills, student note takers, student readers, books on tape (students must make their own arrangements through the Iowa Department for the Blind), and alternate testing facilities (extended time, quiet room, test reader or scribe, and word processing equipment). In addition, the Hawley Academic Resource Center will work with students with qualifying disabilities to provide additional support that is specific to individual needs, often in conjunction with the State of Iowa Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services. Requests for disability services of a non-academic nature will be reviewed by the Dean of Students, in consultation with appropriate college staff members, to determine reasonable and appropriate accommodations.

Back to Top

Course Substitutions for Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities may have the option of substituting another (previously approved) course for a course which satisfies Simpson's foreign language or math competency requirement, if a student's documentation proves that the disability significantly hinders that student's success in a math or foreign language course. The decision to allow a student with a disability to substitute a previously approved alternative course for a math or foreign language course will be made by the Dean of Academic Affairs in conjunction with the Hawley Academic Resource Center and the appropriate Department Head.

Back to Top

Counseling Services

Students with qualifying disabilities, like all Simpson students, also have access to Counseling Services through the student development office, and may want to take early advantage of these services. If a student suspects that he/she may have a disability, that student has the option of being referred to a specialist by the staff at the Hawley Academic Resource Center or the staff at the Counseling Services Center.

Back to Top

Recommendations for Students

Simpson College recommends that students with disabilities be assertive about their needs, strongly motivated, and willing and able to implement individual coping strategies.

Student Records

The Office of the Registrar is responsible for recording academic credit on students' permanent records. Only academic actions (academic probation, academic suspension) will be recorded on the students' permanent records. Disciplinary probation, suspension, or dismissal information is kept by the Dean of Students and the Registrar's Office. Student records, both academic and personal, are confidential. Unless required by law, no personal or academic information can be released without the student's written authorization, and this includes transcripts. Students must request a transcript in writing which should include their signature.

Students who have not met financial obligations to the college, including overdue library materials or automobile violations, will not be permitted to register for the following semester. Transcript copies will not be released until all financial obligations to the college have been met, or satisfactory arrangement for payment has been made.

Students' families will be invited to different events sponsored by the College (such as Family Weekend or Honors Convocation). These invitations will be sent to the home address of the student's parents or guardians. If a student wants the same mailing to go to a parent or guardian residing at a different address, the student needs to inform the Office of Student Development in the Campus Services Building. If a student wants duplicate copies of bills and/or grades to be sent to a parent or guardian living at a different address, the student needs to inform the Business Office and/or the Registrar's Office.

FERPA- Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

Simpson College FERPA Policy

Educational records include admission records, academic records, financial records, financial aid records, and disciplinary records. The college officials who keep these records are the Director of Admissions, the Registrar, the Controller, the Director of Financial Assistance, and the Dean of Students respectively.

FERPA grants to the student:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the college receives a request for access.

Students should submit to the appropriate college official written requests that identify the records they wish to inspect. The college official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the record may be inspected. If the record requested is not maintained by the college official receiving the request, the official will advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

2. The right to request the amendment of a student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

Students may ask a college official to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want to be amended, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

If the college official decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the college will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's educational record, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the college in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the college has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing school tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill a professional responsibility.

Another exception is directory information. Directory information at Simpson College is available to any person making inquiry. Directory information at Simpson includes the following:

- name
- permanent address
- E-mail addresses
- date of birth
- campus box and campus phone (if current)
- class
- dates of enrollment
- major, minor or interest area
- date of graduation or lack of a graduation date
- honors and awards received (including Dean's List)
- weight and height (for members of athletic teams only)

Release of any other information to a student or to any third party is subject to written request signed by the student, except in the case of properly executed legal summons or subpoena. In the case of a subpoena or summons, the student will be notified of the court order prior to the time of compliance with the order, unless such subpoena or summons prohibits notification to the student.

Students who do not wish to have directory information released may prevent such release by sending a written request to the Registrar's Office.

Under the following special circumstances, Simpson College may release student education records to parents or others without student consent:

- A. In an emergency, federal law (FERPA) allows the University to contact parents and other appropriate persons and disclose the information necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or other persons;
- B. FERPA allows the College to disclose to parents or legal guardians information about their students' violation of any federal, state or local law, or any rule or policy of the institution governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance, if (1) the student is under the age of 21; and (2) Simpson determines that the student has committed a disciplinary violation with respect to such use or possession of alcohol or controlled substances;

C. The College may disclose to parents or guardians a student's education records or information there in to the extent necessary to process the student's financial aid request and for such related purposes as to:

1. Determine eligibility for the aid;
2. Determine the amount of the aid;
3. Determine the conditions for the aid; and/or
4. Enforce the terms and conditions of the aid; and

4. Finally, at Simpson College, consistent with FERPA, if the student decides not to grant permission, then parents will have access to their student's records if they can provide evidence that meets the "dependent for tax purposes" requirements.

5. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Simpson College to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue SW
Washington, D.C. 20202-4605

Questions regarding FERPA, Simpson College policy or parental access to student education records can be addressed to Jody Ragan, Registrar, at 515-961-1517 or jody.ragan@simpson.edu.

Visitors and Guests

It is the responsibility of any student who hosts a visitor or guest on campus to insure that the person knows and adheres to the expectations stated in the Simpson College Student Handbook. In instances where guests violate rules or codes, the student host will be held responsible. Residential students are responsible for all that occurs within that dwelling including any guest misconduct. Whether a visitor is a student, non-student, or non-identified guest, the student host will be held responsible for violations of the Simpson College Student Handbook. Responsibility under these rules may occur even if the host is not a participant in the activity or has left the visitor(s) alone.

Judicial Procedures

The basic philosophical approach to discipline at Simpson College is educational in nature and intent. Through staff intervention, discussion of behavior and its consequences, and progressive discipline, students are encouraged and expected to evaluate their behavior and learn to make responsible, positive, and productive choices. Discipline exists in order to maintain a community living environment in the halls and on campus that is conducive to personal, social, and educational growth. The role of discipline is not punishment, restriction, or obligation on violators of policies. The main goals are to help students learn self-discipline, assist students in accepting responsibility for their actions, and to encourage students to accept the consequences of their actions.

Violations of campus regulations are handled by the following:

Academic Policies: Faculty members, Registrar, Dean of Academic Affairs with appeals to the Dean of Academic Affairs.

General Campus Regulations: Student Judicial Council, Associate Dean of Students, and/or Student Development Staff with appeals to the Vice President for Student Development or the President.

Residence Hall Regulations: Area Councils or Greek unit governing body, Area Coordinators, or Associate Dean or Director of Security, depending upon origination of decision, with appeals to the Vice President for Student Development or the President.

The Judicial Process

Because our judicial process is educational in intent, the guidelines below may occasionally be deviated from due to various causes, which include but are not limited to, the nature and complexity of the particular incident, individual student situations, timing, etc.

Back to Top

General Procedures

Reporting and Documentation: Student violations of the Simpson College Handbook may be filed by any member of the college community. A written report shall be prepared and directed to the Associate Dean of Students responsible for the administration of the college judicial system. Normally, this may be accomplished by filing a report with the Office of Security, completing and filing a residence hall incident report, or submitting a photocopy of an official police report. Any reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the event takes place.

Information or Conflict Resolution Meeting: Following the review of the report, a designated staff member may schedule a conflict resolution meeting or a meeting with the student(s) to gather information about the incident.

Based on the outcome of the information or conflict resolution meeting, the Associate Dean of Students will determine the disposition of the violation(s) and may decide among the following options:

- 1) A Simpson College policy has not been violated and no further action will be taken.
- 2) A violation of Simpson College policy could have occurred and may be administratively settled by mutual consent (mediation) of the involved parties on the basis acceptable to the Associate Dean of Students. Such disposition shall be final, and there shall be no subsequent proceedings.
- 3) A violation of Simpson College policy could have occurred and may be appropriate for hearing by the appropriate judicial body. These include:
 - Staff Hearing – Most cases arising from first and/or minor policy violations in campus housing and may be a natural evolution of an information meeting. Generally heard by Area Coordinators or other professional members of the residence life staff.
 - Administrative Hearing – Most serious cases or issues of campus-wide concern heard by the Associate Dean of Students or other appropriate Student Development staff member.
 - Student Conduct Board Hearing – Most serious cases or issues of campus-wide concern heard by a panel of students.

The Student Conduct Board

The student/peer judicial system allows the focus of student discipline to shift from the administration to the student. This philosophy provides for the individual growth and development of each student, and holds the student accountable for the choices he or she makes and the consequences of those choices.

Staff members and peers attempt to identify and use the "teachable moment," when a student is receptive to recognizing, understanding, and accepting responsible decision-making, the value of community living standards, respect for individual and community rights and property, the components of good citizenship. The purpose of the judicial process is not to condemn a student. It may, however, condemn the student's specific behavior in that it may not be in harmony with the best interests of the college community or the student themselves.

The goals of the student judicial disciplinary process are:

- To support a genuine community living atmosphere in which students, staff, and guests are respected as individuals and community standards are upheld for the good of the community.
- To provide a process that is educational as well as just for students and the community, guaranteeing the rights of both.
- To provide a system which encourages objective treatment of each individual and is sensitive to environmental needs and problems as well as the Simpson code of conduct.
- To minimize the incidents in which students repeat violations of college policy.

The Student Conduct Board is comprised of students who are nominated and approved by the Student Government Association. Consideration will be given to provide varied representation, i.e., Greek units, theme houses, apartments, residence halls, off-campus, etc. Student Conduct Board members are expected to serve for the entire academic year.

The Student Conduct Board is the only campus wide board to conduct hearings. The housing unit administrator, Greek coordinator, or another member of the Student Development staff will first review any reported disciplinary incident and may hold a conflict resolution meeting, or refer the incident and student(s) involved to the Student Conduct Board, or refer the incident and student(s) involved to the Office of Student Development for an administrative hearing. A full-time Student Development staff member serves as the Student Conduct Board Advisor. S/he functions in the position of advisor without vote during hearing procedures.

Under the peer review process, the primary responsibility for student conduct rests with the student. The disciplinary process begins when any individual violates college or residence hall policy. An individual student or staff member may make a complaint regarding the conduct of another individual, or a staff member may observe a violation in progress.

Any student can be brought before the Student Judicial Council. A resident can also be brought before the Student Conduct Board if guests of that resident are engaging in activities or behaviors that violate policies.

Back to Top

Student Conduct Board Proceedings

In the event of a referral to the Student Conduct Board (SCB), the chairperson of the SCB is responsible for clarifying the facts, making sure the student understands the policy violated and the rationale behind the policy. The chairperson clarifies and makes sure the student understands the dynamics of who, what, when, where, why, and how his/her behavior has resulted in an appearance before the SCB. Hearings are not open to the public.

Hearings are primarily administrative and are conducted in such a manner as to do substantive justice. Formal rules of evidence and courtroom procedures are not applicable to disciplinary proceedings conducted by the SCB.

When a student is alleged to have violated a policy and is referred to SCB, it shall be his/her choice to attend the hearing or not. If the student chooses not to attend the hearing, the hearing will be held in his/her absence. In the event that the student chooses not to attend the hearing, it may be difficult for the council to fully appreciate the student's point of view in rendering a decision.

Decisions of the SCB will be communicated to the student by a formal letter that details the decision and the reasons for the decision. This will be prepared by the SCB Chairperson or SCB Advisor or his/her designee. In addition, the SCB advisor may meet with the student following the hearing. At this meeting, the SCB advisor will discuss the decision with the student, and the actions necessary (if any) that accompany that decision. It will be the student's responsibility to schedule this meeting if desired.

The letter will be sent by campus mail. The student will then be expected to follow through with whatever actions may be required of him/her. Failure to comply with sanctions given by the SCB will be considered appropriate grounds for additional disciplinary consequences. These may come from the SCB, or may result from a referral to the Office of Student Development. Information about specific hearing procedures may be obtained from the Associate Dean of Students or from the Student Development section on the Simpson College website.

Other Terms and/or Expectations of Judicial Processes

Abuse of College Conduct Procedures: Abuse of College judicial procedures is a violation of college policy. This includes, but is not limited to, 1) failure to obey the summons of a college judicial officer; 2) falsification, distortion, or misrepresentation of information to a college judicial official; 3) disruption or interference with the orderly operation of the college judicial process; 4) initiation of a judicial process knowingly without cause; 5) attempting to discourage an individual's proper participation in, or use of, the college judicial system; 6) attempting or committing an act of retaliation against a person or student organization that has reported a violation of the Simpson College Handbook; 7) attempting to influence the impartiality of a member of the Student Judicial Board prior to, or during the course of, participation in the college judicial system; 8) harassment, abuse, or intimidation of a member of the Student Judicial Board prior to, or during the course of, participation in the college judicial system; 9) failure to comply with the sanction or sanction imposed as part of the college judicial process; and 10) influencing or attempting to influence another person to commit an abuse of the college judicial system.

Confidentiality: At Simpson College, academic and disciplinary records are kept separately. Information from disciplinary records is not available to unauthorized persons on campus or to any person off campus without the written-expressed consent of the student or his/her legal representative or in cases where the safety of persons and property is involved.

Civil Authorities: Civil authorities have the right at all times to come onto the campus, including making entry into rented rooms, with or without the knowledge of the Dean of Students, for purposes of investigation of illegal activity, including search and/or seizure with a search warrant. On-campus behavior that may be a violation of civil law may also be referred to local authorities and the College reserves the right to invoke judicial proceedings for inappropriate student behavior occurring off-campus.

Disciplinary Action while Criminal Charges are Pending: Students may be accountable both to civil authorities and to the College for acts that constitute violations of law and college policy. Disciplinary action at the College will normally proceed during the pendency of criminal proceedings, and will not be subject to challenge on the ground that criminal charges involving the same incident have been dismissed or reduced.

Inherent Authority: The College reserves the right to take necessary and appropriate action to protect the safety and well being of the campus community. Such action may include pursuing disciplinary action for any violation of state or federal law – on or off-campus that affects the College's educational interests.

Interim Suspension: In cases of emergency, where the well-being of students or the institution may be endangered, or in cases where the respondent demonstrates a pattern of disruptive behavior, the Dean of Students (or his/her designee) may take appropriate interim measures including temporary removal of the respondent from College housing and/or temporary suspension of the respondent pending campus judicial proceedings. Such a temporary suspension may become effective immediately without prior notice; however, a student suspended on a temporary basis shall be given the opportunity to appear personally before the Dean of Students or his/her designee to discuss the reliability of the information concerning the student's conduct and whether the conduct and surrounding circumstances reasonably indicate that the continued presence of the student on the College campus poses a substantial threat to self and others or the stability and continuance of normal College functions.

Mediation: Mediation is encouraged as an alternative means to resolve most disciplinary cases. Depending on the situation, the Associate Dean of Students may inform complainants and accused students about the availability of campus mediation resources. The Associate Dean, in the exercise of his or her discretion, may decline to hear a complaint until the parties in a non-academic misconduct case make a reasonable attempt to achieve a mediated settlement. To be binding in a disciplinary case, any mediated settlement must be approved by the Associate Dean of Students.

Room Inspection and Search Policy: The College reserves the right to have authorized personnel enter student rooms for the purpose of determining general cleanliness of rooms, to determine the amount of damage and general misuse of College property, to remove electrical equipment or other items not in compliance with the housing contract or hall regulations, to make repairs, to decorate on a scheduled basis, to maintain the general order and security of the hall, to address suspected violations of College regulations and/or city, state, or federal laws, to respond to emergency situations and to conduct other official business. Discretion will be used at all times. Whenever possible, the room will be entered when the student is present.

Definitions of Disciplinary Sanctions

In the event a student is found responsible for a policy violation, sanctions may be imposed. The sanctions which may be imposed include:

Warning- oral or written notice that continuation or repetition of specified conduct found unacceptable within a period of time stated in the warning may be cause for more severe disciplinary action.

Required Compliance- the carrying out of a college regulation or administrative directive as a condition for avoiding further disciplinary action and/or remaining in good standing.

Restitution- reimbursement for damage to or misappropriation of property. This may take the form of appropriate service or other compensation and may be combined with other penalties.

Fines- not to exceed $100.00 for any single violation ($500 for a group) must be provided with the option of supervised community service work at the stated minimum college wage in amount equivalent to the fine.

Community Service- supervised constructive projects.

Educational Sanction- may be added to any level of sanctioning. Educational sanctions may include, but are not limited to: service projects, letters of apology, housing transfers, counseling, loss of privileges, such as the opportunity to visit or reside in college housing, educational programs, behavioral contracts, chemical dependency assessments, treatment, etc. Educational sanctions/projects are usually added to the sanction category to facilitate the student's learning from the experience.

Disciplinary Probation the most severe and serious warning a student may receive and still remain enrolled in the college. Disciplinary probation may include loss of designated privileges for a specified period of time not to exceed one year. A summary of the nature of the misconduct will be filed in his/her file. Violation of the terms of the disciplinary probation or any infraction of any college regulation during the period of the disciplinary probation may be grounds for suspension. Probationary status may restrict the student from representing the college in any official capacity including student government, theater, music, athletics, etc. for a specified period.

Social Probation formal written notification of unacceptable conduct. Social probation is the most serious sanction which may be applied against an organization and the group continues to remain a recognized campus organization. Further violation of college regulations or the terms of the social probation notification during the stated period of the probation may subject the organization to suspension of its recognized status. This may include loss of designated privileges such as pledging, rushing, exchanges, or use of college facilities for the duration of the probationary period, which may not exceed one year. If the organization is affiliated with an outside organization, both will be notified that permission to continue on campus is in jeopardy.

Suspension- separation from the college for a specified period of time, usually the remainder of the semester or termination of enrollment in the college for an indefinite period. Readmission must be applied for and may be contingent upon compliance with specific conditions. The conditions of readmission, if any, shall be stated in the notice of dismissal.

With respect to the categories of violations identified above, the following matrix may help students understand how appropriate sanctions are determined. As with the categories of violations, it should be remembered that this framework is only a general model to be used as a starting point, and that the individual merits of a given situation may require deviation from this model.

Back to Top

Categories of Violations

To assist students in understanding the nature and severity of policy violations, the following general framework has been developed. It defines three categories of violations. Each succeeding category consists of violations considered to be more serious than those of the immediately preceding category. This is not a binding construct, nor is it an all-inclusive list of possible policy violations, but it does provide a starting point from which council members and others may begin to establish the particular severity of any given incident. It should be remembered that this framework is only a general model to be used as a starting point, and that the individual merits of a given situation may require deviation from this model.

Category A

Quiet hours violations

Escort policy or visitation violations

Category B

Fireworks (situations involving very little threat to personal safety)

Vandalism

Failure to comply with college staff directions

Verbal abuse or belligerence towards staff members

Unauthorized entry or use of college facilities (includes student's rooms and hall restrooms)

Theft

Category C

Fighting or physical assault, sexual assault, or other physical or psychological abuse (this includes harassment)

Fire safety violations

Weapons violations

Fireworks (situations involving greater hazard to personal safety)

Vandalism of a more significant nature

Drugs

Sanction Categories

Dependent upon the nature of the incident and the above factors, a category of sanctioning should first be determined. This process should be facilitated by the frame work given above which identifies appropriate categories for specific kinds of violations. It should be remembered that the framework is only a general model. Some violations may by appearances belong in one category, but, in considering all details, be more appropriately placed in another category. Educational sanctions/projects are added to the sanction category to facilitate the student's learning from the experience and the increase the severity of a particular category.

Category A

First Offense - $25 fine and/or equivalent community service.

Second Offense - $35 fine and /or equivalent community service.

Third Offense - $50 fine and/or equivalent community service (four category A offenses will result in an automatic assessment at the Category B Second Offense).

Category B

First Offense - $50 fine and/or equivalent community service.

Second Offense - $100 fine and/or equivalent community service and disciplinary probation recommendation, and for chemical violation, chemical dependency assessment and mandatory compliance with recommendations.

Third Offense - $100 and/or equivalent community service and suspension recommendation

Category C

First Offense - $100 fine and disciplinary probation, recommended for chemical violations, chemical dependency, assessment and mandatory compliance with recommendations and/or recommended finite suspension.

Second Offense - $100 fine and recommended indefinite suspension.

Other actions may be taken in lieu or in addition to those listed above.

Alcohol Policy Violations (Individual)

When the alcohol policy is violated only by creating excessive noise or carrying an open container of alcohol in a public area, the student may receive a verbal request to remedy the situation. This request will be noted as a warning in an activity log. After a verbal warning has been issued to a student, any subsequent violations of the alcohol policy will result in action as follows:

Level 1

This represents a first violation of the alcohol policy where the student is cooperative with staff and aggravation circumstances are not present. Violation of this type may result in a fine of $50.00, restitution for any damages, attendance at an alcohol education program, and community service. Deferred judgments may be given for first offense violations.

Level 2

This represents a second repeat violation or a violation of the keg/large container policy. Students with these kinds of violations may be fined up to $100, assigned 10 hours of community service, and referred to an alcohol education program. Restitution will be required for any damages associated with the violation. Non-resident students who are found responsible for these kinds of violations in the residence community may be restricted from the halls. Students may be referred for assessment with an alcohol treatment consultant.

Level 3

This represents repeated violations beyond Level 2 of the alcohol policy and/or other residence hall or college policies while visibly under the influence of alcohol. Students with these kinds of violation may be fined $100, assigned 10-25 hours of community service, referred for a chemical dependency assessment, and placed in a disciplinary probation. Restitution will be required for any associated damages. Resident students found responsible for these types of violation may be suspended from the halls for a specified period of time (no refunds of room charges will be given for the suspended period). Probationary status may restrict the student from representing the college in any official capacity including student government, theater, music athletics, etc. for a specified period.

Level 4

This represents a violation of the alcohol policy after a student has been found responsible for a Level 3 violation. Students found responsible for this type of violation may be suspended from the college for a minimum of one semester. Students should have the option of completing an assessment at an appropriate treatment center and agreeing to comply with the recommendations of the assessment. Students choosing this option would remain on probation.

(In all cases where individual fines are assessed, the money will be used for alcohol education programming; speakers, resources, etc.)

Alcohol Policy Violations (Group)

When campus groups or organizations violate the alcohol policy as an activity of the group/organizations, the group/organization will be subject to sanctions as a unit. Group/organizations sanctions may include fines up to $500, social probation, educational sanctions, community service, and loss of recognitions.

(In all cases where group fines are assessed, the money will be used for alcohol education programming.)

Back to Top

Appeals

Appeals are a means of ensuring that student's rights are upheld and that all students receive fair treatment as they go through the judicial/disciplinary process. Appeals must be written and submitted within 72 hours of issuance of sanction notification (except in the case of new evidence). The appeal will be evaluated to determine if valid grounds exist for an appeal hearing. The student will be notified within one week if and when the appeal will be heard. All appeals of primary decisions are submitted to the Vice President for Student Development.

Appeals may be made for the following reasons:

- failure of the SCB or administrative hearing to adhere to proper procedures as outlined in the SCB manual or other established guidelines (i.e., notification of violation was not given, confidentiality was jeopardized, etc.).
- unusual conditions or the addition of new, relevant information.
- excessive or inconsistent sanctions.

A student may not appeal based only upon his/her dissatisfaction with a sanction.

Appeals will result in one of three possible actions:

Initial decision is:

1. supported
2. modified
3. removed

Appeal is determined to be frivolous or unfounded. This will result in either leaving the initial decision as stated or more serious action being taken. The later will occur if the appeal made can be seen as being a nuisance appeal and/or if the initial decision is determined to be an insufficient resolution to the matter. Determination is made by the Appeal Board.

Admission and Involuntary Withdrawal of Students

Administration and faculty reserve the right to implement policies relating to admission and withdrawal of students according to standards of health, academic qualification and personal conduct established by the college.

Students may be involuntarily withdrawn from Simpson for an interim, finite, or infinite period of time for reasons when 1) medical conditions exist that if left untreated may seriously jeopardize the health of the student or others on the campus with whom the student comes in contact; 2) when a student engages or threatens to engage in behavior which could cause significant property damage or directly and substantially impede the lawful and rightful activities of others; or 3) when a student engages or threatens to engage in behavior which poses a danger of causing physical harm to self or others.

The Dean of Students or his/her designee may refer a student to the college counseling staff or other appropriate independent mental health or medical professional for evaluation, if there is reasonable belief that the student meets the previously noticed criteria for withdrawal. That student shall sign a release of information allowing communication between the mental health/medical/counseling professional and appropriate college staff. If the student fails to meet the conditions for evaluation (such as time frame and reporting requirements), that student may be withdrawn on an interim basis until the conditions for the evaluation have been met.

An interim, finite, or infinite involuntary withdrawal may be implemented immediately if the dean or his/her designee determines that the student has failed to complete the requested evaluation and/or if the student meets any of the criteria for involuntary withdrawal listed above. The dean or his/her designee shall be responsible for advising the student regarding terms of the involuntary withdrawal and the processes to resolve the student's status. When feasible, the student shall be afforded the opportunity to review with the dean or his/her designee the rationale for the involuntary withdrawal, the terms of the involuntary withdrawal, and the criteria for reinstatement. The student may have support persons present, such as parents or therapist.

Food Services

Meal Plans

Students living in the residence halls, apartments or theme houses are required to have either a full (20 meals/week), Part (14 meals/week), or 12 Flex (12 meals/week + $200 flex/semester meal plan. Or residents of the apartments, theme houses, or Greek houses may opt for the 6 flex meal plan since they all have access to kitchens. Any exception to this rule must be approved in advance. Check with the Office of Student Development to begin the exception process.

Each resident student will be issued an ID/proximity card. Students are required to present their student ID at each meal. The board plan is not transferable. You cannot eat without it, and if you lose or damage it, you must report it immediately to the Office of Student Development. A replacement card can be purchased for $15.

Your prox card is yours and yours alone. No one else may use it under any circumstances, even if you don't use it for a particular meal. The proximity card food system helps our food services prepare the right amount of food at each meal, which, in turn, helps us keep our on-campus living costs to a minimum.

Dining Options

Chartwells serves three meals a day, six days a week in Pfeiffer Dining Hall. Only brunch and dinner are served on Saturdays. You will have a varied and balanced menu to choose from, including entrees, pizza station, grill station, deli station, side dishes, soup, salad bar, desserts, ice cream, and beverages. In addition to regular meals, we offer monthly theme meals and Sunday buffets. Any student or guest may have as much food as desired in the dining hall, but no food may be taken out from Pfeiffer. After each meal, dishes and silverware, etc. should be returned to the conveyor belt. Dishes, silverware, and so forth are the property of Simpson College and may not be taken from the dining hall.

Pfeiffer Express is a "grab and go" dining option located in the front entryway of Pfeiffer Dining Hall.

Students can also visit the Outtakes in the Hopper Gymnasium for additional dining options. Meal transfers from Pfeiffer to Outtakes allow the student to receive credit towards the cost of a meal at the Outtakes. In addition, any student on a meal plan, can purchase flex dollars for use in the Outtakes and Pfeiffer. These flex dollars expire at the end of the semester they are issued. The weekly meal period runs from Friday to Thursday.

Solicitation of Funds

As an independent, gift-supported institution, Simpson College depends upon voluntary contributions to underwrite a significant portion of its annually budgeted operations, to support special projects for purposes over and above current operations, and to make possible the development of the College's physical facilities and endowment resources. The fundraising policies of the College are established by the Board of Trustees, and their implementation is managed and coordinated by the Office of College Advancement.

Alumni and friends of Simpson, parents of current and former students, local and national business organizations and foundations are regularly solicited through the Office of College Advancement to make contributions for approved capital projects and annual operations. Solicitation of gifts from these groups by other college departments, college employees or members of college-sponsored organizations and clubs is not permitted without prior consent from the Vice President for College Advancement. In particular, students, faculty, and/or coaches, individually or collectively, are not permitted to request gifts from members of the above listed groups to secure funds for the annual operations, special projects, equipment, or capital projects unless authorization by the Vice President for College Advancement has been obtained. College sponsored organizations that are separately incorporated, e.g., social fraternities and sororities need not receive advance authorization to solicit their memberships. Student sponsored fund raising projects including soliciting Simpson students, producing income through sales and advertising, and merchandising goods and services on campus must receive prior approval from the Vice President for Student Development.

Emergency Practice Sessions

In accordance with the requirements of the State Fire Marshal, each residence hall will schedule emergency vacating practice sessions each year. In order to simulate a real emergency, the times will not be announced. All students who are present in a residence hall at the time of the practice are expected to cooperate promptly.

Fire and evacuation information is posted on the inside of each residence hall, apartment, theme house and College owned Greek house room door. Residents should be familiar with this information. Simpson College considers fire safety extremely important, and students have an obligation to adhere to College regulations as well as city and state statutes. Simpson College residence halls, apartments, theme houses and Greek houses are required to conduct periodic fire drills each semester. Failure to respond appropriately to fire alarms will necessitate the scheduling of additional drills and disciplinary action against the resident(s) involved.

In Case of Fire:

If the fire is small and can be contained, use the nearest fire extinguisher.

Sound the fire alarm.

Evacuate the building!!

Call Security (x1711) or 911

Evacuation Procedures:

Feel the door from top to bottom with your hands. If it is hot, do not open it!

If the door is cool, crouch low, and open it slowly. If there is heavy smoke, close the door quickly.

If the hallway is clear, exit via the nearest stairwell.

If you encounter heavy smoke in the stairwell, do not proceed--go to a different stairwell.

When Trapped In A Room:

Stuff towels or clothing under the door.

Open windows--attract someone's attention.

Stay near the window for fresh air.

Failure to adhere to the emergency procedures is a serious offense and will be treated as such. Likewise, pranks or malicious use of fire alarm systems will not be tolerated. Activating a false alarm or removing or damaging an alarm is a misdemeanor. Offenders may be referred to the appropriate judicial official.

WARNING

Persons placing false alarms, tampering with or interfering with the operation of fire alarms or fire equipment, or interfering with efforts of fire fighting personnel are subject to prosecution under the laws of the State of Iowa. Medical and Psychological Emergencies

If a student is suffering from extreme physical illness or from an emotional disturbance, Student Development staff, residence hall staff, or the campus minister should be called immediately. If an emergency exists dial 911 and also Campus Security at 961-1711 or x1711.

Back to Top

Tornado

During severe weather alerts (watches and warnings), residents are encouraged to monitor television and radio reports and should take reasonable precautions. Windows should be closed during thunderstorms or severe weather alerts. Each resident should have a flashlight accessible in case of power failure.

Back to Top

When tornado alert sounds:

- Proceed to the lowest floor that can be reached before high winds or the tornado strikes.
- Stay away from windows.
- All electrical items should be disconnected if time permits.
- Remain calm.
- If a tornado strikes, do not move to see the damage until the storm is well out of the area. Tornadoes sometimes come in twos.

The Office of Security is equipped to monitor up-to-the-minute conditions during all weather watches and warnings. Communication of that information is made to the Residence Life staff as quickly and completely as possible, and each hall staff is prepared to notify residents and/or take appropriate precautions as needed.

However, in a critical situation such as a tornado threat, time may not allow staffs to conduct a floor-by-floor or room-by-room alert. Persons who fail to respond to a tornado alert siren or who choose to leave safer areas of the building before an alert siren ceases do so at their own risk.

When a severe thunderstorm or tornado has been sighted in the area, a severe thunderstorm warning or tornado warning is issued. If a warning is received, persons close to the storm should take cover immediately.

Residence Halls - students living in residence halls will be directed to take cover by residence hall staff. Residents should leave their windows cracked (but stay away from them) and should take shelter in the basement or an interior hallway on the lowest floor. The residence hall staff will monitor the weather bulletins and indicate directions to be followed. Students disregarding staff directions or failing to follow established procedures will be subject to disciplinary action.

Classroom, Office Buildings - Go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor, or to a designated shelter area.

Outside - Go to a designated shelter area. If there is not time, lie flat in the nearest depression area with your hands shielding your head.

Housing - On Campus, Off Campus Policy

All full-time unmarried students who do not live at home or with immediate relatives are required to live in college residential facilities or fraternity or sorority houses. Exceptions to these rules are made for seniors, students over the age of 23, veterans, married students, and students with dependent children living with them. Permission to live off-campus for these or other reasons must be obtained prior to moving off-campus via the Petition process. Check with the Department of Residence Life or the office of Student Development to begin the process and pick up a petition. Please be aware that financial aid will be adjusted for off-campus students. All decisions about granting petitions rest with the Vice President of Student Development.

You & Your Roommate

Learning to live in close quarters with a person you do not know very well presents a challenge for you. You will want to create an atmosphere that permits studying to get done, relaxation and sleeping to occur, privacy needs to be met, and perhaps allow a deep friendship to develop. All of the above are more likely to happen if the two of you communicate openly and listen willingly. Start by becoming acquainted with each other's background, attitudes, habits, and moods so you know what to expect of each other. The questions below will help facilitate sharing. Keep in mind that your roommate is not going to be a carbon copy of you. There will be differences. You both need to adjust, accommodate, and compromise. Give it a try!

Back to Top

Questions to ask each other (and yourself!)

- Begin by getting to know your roommate as a person: Hometown? Career goals? Talents? Hobbies? Likes? Dislikes?
- What about guests dropping by? How often? How late? Weekend visitors?
- What time do you go to sleep? What time do you get up? Are you a heavy or a light sleeper? Do you snore?
- How much do you study? When do you study? How quiet does the room have to be for you to be able to study?
- At what temperature do you like to keep the room?
- What kind of music do you prefer? How loud? Can you use headphones?
- How clean and neat do you want the room? How do we decide who cleans what and when in the room?
- Which items of your property are OK to borrow? Which are off-limits?
- How will we set up the room? What about food in the room? Do we share?
- Keep the lines of communication open. Discuss potential areas of conflict. Be open to compromises. If necessary, make a list of ground rules concerning such issues as music and visits by friends of the opposite sex. This will lessen the chance of arguments over simple misunderstandings.

Roommate Expectations and Responsibilities

All roommates have the right:

- To privacy
- To respect
- To open communication
- To mutually clean living quarters
- To personal safety and freedom from physical harm and harassment

- To be asked before possessions are used
- To stay true to their own values
- To agree and disagree
- To ask residence life staff for assistance when needed
- To be treated civilly
- To comfortable living space
- To free access to one's room
- To a room free of policy violations

All roommates have the responsibility:

- To respect one another's privacy

Steps to Resolving a Roommate Conflict

Speak to your roommate(s) directly. State your issues neutrally. Replay feelings. Offer resolutions. Be prepared to listen. Be willing to reach a compromise.

All first-years should fill out a "Roommate Contract" early in the Fall Semester. If you haven't done one and would like to, please ask your student staff member for a copy. This is a document that will open up communication about common issues and get the roommates to think about possible issues that will arise throughout the year or work through current issues. It is a document that is meant to be flexible and adjusted when all of the roommates see fit to make changes. Ask your CA (Community Advisor) or other staff member to intervene by meeting with all roommates to mediate the discussion. His/her role is that of a neutral mediator to guide the discussion and work to reach a compromise to resolve the problem.

In more severe situations, the Area Coordinator or Director of Residence Life may step in to help mediate the conflict, and as a last resort, set forth regulations to ensure a safe and comfortable living environment and resolve the conflict.

Back to Top

Community Living Agreements

If you find that you and your roommate and/or suitemates could use some help getting a discussion of issues started, or are having problems, your Community Advisor (CA), House Assistant (HA), Student Hall Coordinator (SHC), or Area Coordinator (AC) can help. He or she can provide you with a "Roommate Agreement" or a "Community Living Agreement" to complete. This agreement will focus your discussion on areas of potential conflicts and help you and your roommate(s) come to mutual solutions.

Survival Tips

- Discuss "Questions to Ask Each Other" as soon as possible.
- Be realistic. Don't expect your roommate to be your best friend and constant companion. Continuous close contact can strain even the best of friendships.
- Keep the lines of communication open.
- Discuss potential areas of conflict. Be open to compromises.
- If your roommate is doing something you don't like, don't repress your feelings. It's usually better to air gripes immediately rather than to store up a lot of petty grievances until you have a major blow-up.
- Be considerate of your roommate's privacy.
- Never assume your roommate is just like you. You are both individuals.
- Always ask permission. Don't just use the iron or eat the cookies, even if you think it might be OK.
- Appreciate your roommate. Praise, respect and courtesy are the foundations for any positive relationship. Never take your roommate for granted.
- Avoid being judgmental. You are not your roommate's keeper.
- Be honest, assertive and stand up for yourself.
- Ask your Community Advisor (CA), House Assistant (HA), or Area Coordinator (AC) for advice. They are trained to help mediate conflicts.

Back to Top

You & Your Neighbors

Each residence hall, apartment, theme house, and Greek house communities are unique. Living so close to one's neighbors can allow for the development of long-lasting friendships and good times. When disagreements inevitably pop up, it is important to remember to "treat others as you would have them treat you" and "to be courteous to your community."

Being Courteous to Your Community leads to a cleaner, quieter, safer, more comfortable living environment for everyone.

Back to Top

Tips for a Cleaner Hall Environment:

- Don't leave food particles in the sink or attempt to rinse large pieces of food down the drain.

- Clean your room, vacuum the floor and empty your recycle bins on a regular basis. This will help keep bugs out of your room, apartment or house.
- Take all of your trash to the dumpsters located in your area.

Back to Top

Tips for a Quieter Hall Environment:

- Always observe Quiet Hours. This is one of the most common complaints from residents about other residents!
- Stairwells and hallways can be echo chambers. Keep your voice down when in these areas out of respect for those living close by them.
- Keep in mind that rooms and apartments are in close quarters - walls, floors and ceilings can be very thin.
- Theme Houses are located alongside Indianola community members. Please remember this and be courteous.
- Wait until you get outside before beginning any sports activity.
- Adjust the volume on your alarm so that it wakes only you, not your entire room, suite, or apartment. When leaving for the weekend, make sure you turn your alarm off.

Back to Top

Tips for a Safer Hall Environment:

- Read and follow all guidelines in this handbook.
- Never give strangers access to the building by letting them in or propping doors.
- Do not let anyone borrow your proximity card (Student ID).
- Never escort a stranger.
- Instruct visiting parties to use the outside phone to call the person they are visiting for an escort.
- Do not give out your room combination.
- Don't block hallways with furniture, decorations or other materials.
- Don't chain your bike to trees or stairwell railings. Like materials stacked in the hallway, your bike could be blocking emergency access or exit.
- Don't leave laundry unattended in washers or dryers. Report any vandalism or machine malfunction directly to the Director of Residence Life (961-1562) or reslife@simpson.edu. (Please provide the machine number, location, and describe the problem. Refunds are available from the Director of Residence Life.)
- When a fire alarm sounds, do not attempt to silence the alarm yourself. Simply exit the building and call Security so that they can respond.

Back to Top

Tips for a More Comfortable Living Environment:

- Get to know your neighbors. Knowing them on a friendly basis now will help you discuss that loud stereo later.
- Always observe smoking regulations.
- Work with your roommate(s) and/or suitemates to come to an agreement on an appropriate room temperature.
- Get to know and work with your CA, HA, AC or AD. Give him or her any suggestions you might have on how the living environment can be improved.

Can I decorate my room, apartment or house?

Yes! Students are encouraged to personalize their rooms to make them more like home. There are various things that can be done to accomplish this. Here are some basic guidelines about what to bring and what not to bring.

Area Rugs: Although all of our halls, apartments, and houses at Simpson are fully carpeted, rugs are a great way to personalize your room. Do not use adhesive tape to hold down rugs. Our experience is that it does not come off the industrial carpet after removing the carpet/rug.

Furniture: Furniture that is not affixed to the floor may be moved and arranged as you like as long as the door is not blocked. You may add items such as a chair or TV; however, furniture may not be removed from your room. At the end of the year, you will be responsible for seeing that all furniture is in the room, assembled, and in the same condition as when you moved in.

Posters, Pictures, Flags, Etc.: Other ways to personalize your room include putting up posters, pictures, flags, and other items on your walls (not the ceiling). Blue painter's tape is the best way to put up wall hangings without the risk of damage!

Plants: Plants can add color and cheer to any room and they can help reduce odors. Some of the best plants for your room are closet or spath plants, philodendrons, spider plants, peace lilies, and golden pothos.

Pets: Pets are not allowed in any of the residential facilities, even to visit, because of health, sanitation, and noise concerns. The only exceptions are fish (in a tank less than 10 gallons) and registered guide dogs accompanying sight-impaired persons. Violation of this policy can result in a minimum fine is $50. In addition, a special cleaning charge of $150 can be assessed to any residents who violate this policy as a general precaution to eliminate any allergens, deep clean, and/or to remove any smells.

Christmas Decorations: To avoid fire hazards, live Christmas trees are not permitted in residential facilities. Low-heat bulbs and flame-retardant materials may be used to decorate. However, all decorations should remain interior to your room.

Flammable Items: Candles, incense, anything with open coils, and halogen lamps are prohibited in the residential facilities. They present serious fire hazards and may produce an odor that may be disturbing to other residents. Flammable items such as fishnets or flags should not be hung from the ceiling. Do not hang anything on or over ceiling lights, sprinklers, or smoke alarms. Choose and place your decorations carefully in your room.

Your Responsibilities

As a resident of Simpson College, there are certain responsibilities that you assume when you move into campus housing. Some fundamental responsibilities deserve emphasis and those are outlined below.

Responsibility for the Rules

The rules and regulations of the College and Residence Life are clearly spelled out in this Simpson College Residence Life Handbook and/or in the Simpson College Student Handbook. You are responsible for knowing these rules and for adhering to them at all times.

Responsibility for Attending Floor/House/Building Meetings

Floor/House/Building meetings are held at the beginning of each year and periodically as needed. Floor meetings are for your benefit and you are responsible for any and all information discussed there. If you are unable to attend a floor meeting, you should contact your CA, HA, AC or AD for clarification of anything missed.

Responsibility for Your Living Area

Along with your roommate(s), you are fully responsible for activities that occur in your room, apartment, or house. Even if you are not actively involved in a policy violation, you will be held responsible if you are present during such a violation, or if you give others access to your room. Therefore, you should always lock your room when you leave, even if for only a few moments. This will prevent others from committing violations in your room that can get you in trouble. Do not condone a violation by your presence. It is your responsibility to put an end to any violation that occurs in your room, and to call a CA, HA, AC or AD or Security if you need assistance.

Responsibility for Your Guests

You are responsible for the conduct of your guests when they are present in your room, apartment, or building. Each year, cases of vandalism and policy violations occur as a result of visitors who lack respect for our housing. If you intend to have visitors or guests in the hall, be aware that YOU may be subject to disciplinary action because of THEIR behavior. Additionally, staff members reserve the right to ask any individual who is not a resident to leave the building at any time.

Responsibility to Staff

All members of the Simpson College community share the responsibility for governing their own conduct. Staff members, who, in the course of their duties, are confronted with violations of College policy, are obligated to report them. Employees are not expected to tolerate abuse in the performance of their duties, therefore the harassment or retaliation toward any Residence Life staff, Security personnel, custodian, or any other employee will result in disciplinary action. Students are expected to comply with all reasonable staff requests; failure to do so can result in disciplinary action.

Back to Top

Residential Policies, Services, and Information

At Simpson College, several authorities including the Simpson College Board of Trustees; the Department of Residence Life; state, federal, and local authorities; and area councils establish conduct regulations. Additionally, State of Iowa statutes apply to all Simpson College students. The College reserves the right to make changes in the rules and regulations for campus facilities at any time and will attempt to give prior notice in case of proposed changes.

Back to Top

Abandoned Property

Any personal items left more than 24 hours in public hallways, bathrooms, or kitchens can be considered abandoned and is subject to being discarded by custodial staff. Any items left in residential facilities after check-out will be discarded, including furniture. Items left in Colonial storage (for international students) beyond contract deadlines is also considered abandoned and subject to being discarded.

Back to Top

Alcohol/Drugs

The residence halls and the Station Square apartments are substance-free living areas. Substance Free means that, regardless of age or occasion, alcohol use or possession is not allowed within the building. This includes empty containers and items that lead to an “assumption of consumption.”

In other residential facilities only students who have attained the legal drinking age of 21 years may possess or consume alcoholic beverages in the privacy of their own rooms with the door closed. Student rooms are not designed to accommodate large groups of people. A group consisting of no more than 2 guests per resident of the room but never totaling more than 12 people in a room is permitted. Any group of 12 or more where alcohol is present constitutes an unregistered party and is therefore subject to disciplinary action. At no time should a resident or guest who is under the age of 21 consume alcohol.

Alcohol is not allowed in any public area such as lounges, stairwells, hallways, computer rooms, laundry rooms, and any exterior location (lawn, steps, patio, deck, etc.).

Federal and state laws forbid the sale and use of drugs that are not prescribed by a physician or available on the legal open market. The College prohibits possession, use or distribution of marijuana or any other illegal substance, use of prescribed medications used by someone else, or used in a manner not consistent with the prescription. Any student known to be possessing, using or distributing drugs is subject to College disciplinary action and arrest, imprisonment or fine according to state law.

The complete Simpson College Alcohol and Drug policies can be found elsewhere in the Simpson College Student Handbook.

Appliances

Study lamps, radios, televisions, stereos, VCR/DVD players, portable hair dryers, computers, closed coil appliances, sealed unit coffee makers that are 1500 watts or less, and thermostatically controlled hot pots may be kept in student rooms. Microwaves must be 2.0 cubic feet or less and refrigerators must be 4.3 cubic feet or less. Microwaves and refrigerators are limited to two per room. Space heaters, window air conditioner units, halogen lamps, and open coil electrical appliances (including toasters, toaster ovens, and hot plates) are prohibited. Appliances that are permitted by Residence Life must be safety (UL) approved. Overloading the electrical systems can present a fire and safety hazard. Students should use a power strip with surge protection for everything not plugged directly into a wall outlet. Extension cords are prohibited. All electrical appliances should be unplugged during holiday/break periods.

Back to Top

Bicycles

Bicycles cannot be parked in stairwells, hallways or doorways, and they may not block or prohibit the use of fire exits or hall entrances. You may keep your bicycles in your room; however, any additional maintenance cost which results through such storage in your room will be assessed to you. The College is not responsible for damage or theft of bicycles while on campus. Bikes should be locked to bike racks.

Back to Top

Cable TV

Simpson College provides BroadBand Basic and Family Cable to all rooms. Students will need to bring their own coaxial cable to connect. Be sure you know how to make your TV cable-ready. For an additional fee, premium channels and services are available through Mediacom; call (515) 246-1555 to order. Be sure to give your physical street address (example: 703 North E Street instead of ATO Fraternity). Students are only responsible for the part that Simpson College doesn't pay. More information about the channel line-up, packages you can buy, and a listing of your physical street address can be found at www.simpson.edu/is/telephone/cable.html.

Back to Top

Calendar/Important Dates

Always consult the Residence Life calendar online for dates of all breaks, hall closings, Room Selection, Staff Selection, etc. at www.simpson.edu/reslife/calendar.

Back to Top

Check-in

Consult www.simpson.edu/reslife/move.html for move-in details. Your Community Advisor (CA) or House Assistant (HA) for your floor/building will have completed a Room Inventory prior to your arrival. The Room Inventory records all damages and imperfections in the room/apartment. The form should be checked and signed by both the resident and staff member at check-in. The Room Inventory Form forms the standard by which the room will be judged at the end of the year. It is the responsibility of a resident to make their staff aware of any problems or imperfections not noted on Room Inventory when they notice it. Repairs for any additional damage, other than normal wear and tear, found by the staff member upon checkout will be charged to the resident(s) of that room/apartment/building.

Back to Top

Check-out

A resident moving out of their room/apartment for any reason must officially check out of the room by:

- Completing and signing the Room Inventory Form.
- Having the room checked for cleanliness and damages against the initial Room Inventory.
- A charge will be assessed to cover the cost of improper checkout procedures ($25), services required to remove personal belongings or abandoned items ($25-$50), and damages or cleaning that has resulted from a resident's actions or inactions. The College will not be held responsible for loss of or damage to items left in a room/apartment. Abandoned items cannot be retrieved. Any charge a student incurs must be paid before the student re-enters the College or receives official records.
- Students checking out at the end of an academic term must do so within 24 hours after their last final exam. Any exceptions to this rule must be cleared through the Department of Residence Life.

Back to Top

Cooking

All apartments and theme houses are equipped with a full kitchen. When cooking, food should not be left unattended. It is the responsibility of each student to leave the appliances and kitchen area clean and left in the same condition as when they moved in.

Most halls are equipped with sinks, surface units, microwaves and ovens for your occasional cooking convenience. Cooking in rooms should be limited to minor cooking such as popping corn, making coffee and heating soup. When cooking, food should not be left unattended. It is the responsibility of each student to leave the appliances and cooking area clean and all the hall-owned utensils in their proper places.

Back to Top

Custodial Service/Custodians

The custodians in your living area do a great deal to make your building a comfortable and pleasant place in which to live. Custodians are not expected to clean unnecessary or excessive messes made by residents; when they do, residents from a floor/building may be billed to their student account. When using a common area, students are expected to pick up all trash and leave the area in good condition. Your cooperation in caring for the facilities will make their job easier and will create a pleasant atmosphere and help keep room and board costs low.

When you clean your living space, all trash should be taken to the appropriate receptacles or dumpsters behind your building. Unwanted large items, such as boxes and carpeting, must be taken directly to the dumpster. Do not leave garbage outside your door. Do not sweep dirt into the hallways or stairwells. All residential facilities have vacuum cleaners and basic cleaning supplies available for your use.

Back to Top

Damage and Vandalism

You are responsible for the condition of your room, apartment and/or house. The Room Inventory Form should be filled out carefully when you move in because this form is used to determine damages that occur during the year. If damage other than normal wear and tear occurs, you will be charged for repairs. Furniture must be placed and in the same condition in the room that it was upon check-in.

The condition of public areas is the responsibility of all students. Please help maintain them by treating them with care. Although those persons doing the damage should pay for damages that occur in public areas, unassigned damages will result in community or general hall damage charges, which will be divided among students in the appropriate house/floor/wing. You can help keep your costs down by encouraging others to respect public areas and to assume responsibility for their actions.

Back to Top

Equipment Checkout

Residents may check out equipment such as vacuums, VCR/DVD players, pool cues, and games in the five traditional residence halls with their student ID.

- Only the residents of that particular building may check out equipment.
- Equipment may not be taken off campus or to other buildings on campus.
- Each Area Council or staff can set time limits for equipment use.

Back to Top

Extermination

Residential facilities are professionally exterminated regularly. Residents should contact an Area Coordinator if there is a continuing insect problem.

Back to Top

Fines/Disciplinary Sanctions

Fines can be assessed or discipline taken for any violation of policies listed herein or any action that jeopardizes the health, safety, or security of residents.

When an incident or violation of policy occurs, an Incident Report is generally written. Area Coordinators and the Assistant Dean will usually meet with involved students to obtain more information. Failure to meet with the Area Coordinator or Assistant Dean also constitutes a violation of policy. AC's and the AD serve as judicial officers for most violations by students who live in their area. Subsequent or larger infractions of campus policy can be acted on by other college officials or the Student Judicial Council. For more information about campus judicial proceedings, please refer to the Simpson College Student Handbook.

Back to Top

Firearms/Weapons

Possession of any weapon such as, but not limited to, knives, rifles, shotguns, handguns, air guns, BB guns, and ammunition including explosives (e.g. – firecrackers/firecrackers), is prohibited while on College owned or controlled property. Possession of a firearm will result in College disciplinary action and/or arrest, imprisonment or fine according to state law. Please refer to the Student Handbook for details.

Back to Top

Furniture

Simpson provides a bed, desk, desk chair, and dresser for each resident. Each room or apartment is provided with a bookcase. Each apartment and theme house is furnished with a couch, armchair, coffee table, and dining table with chairs. Residence hall and Greek house lounges are furnished with couches, chairs, and other lounge items. All furniture assigned to a specific room/apartment MUST remain there for the entire year. Missing room furniture at checkout will be billed to the residents of the room. No built-in furniture may be detached from the walls or floors. No waterbeds are allowed. College-owned lounge furniture found in student rooms will result in a minimum $25 charge per item to the student(s) responsible.

Back to Top

Holiday/Break/Vacation Housing

Residence halls and certain Greek houses are closed during Fall, Thanksgiving and Spring Break as well as between semesters. Theme Houses and apartments do not close during holiday or break periods, but students should notify Residence Life if they intend to remain on campus. Residence Life staff will enter all rooms and apartments during each break period for reasons of safety, security, and energy efficiency. Residence Life Staff will be on all-campus duty to provide for basic services, security, and care during these periods. Information about holiday housing will be sent to all residents approximately two or three weeks prior to each break period. Any student needing the ability to remain on campus must be approved by Residence Life. Students remaining on campus for reasons other than Simpson related purposes (athletics, academics, etc.) will have charges billed directly to their student account unless they are a resident of a Theme House or apartment. Students with any questions about holiday/break housing should contact the Department of Residence Life. Consult the Residence Life calendar online for dates of breaks and hall closings at www.simpson.edu/reslife/calendar.

Back to Top

Insurance

Residents are strongly encouraged to have Personal Property Insurance if not covered by your parent's home policy. The College is not responsible for damage to or loss of personal property in the residential facilities due to fire, theft, interruption of water, heat or other utilities or other causes. Thefts, damage to property, etc., should be reported to the CA, HA, AC, AD or Director of Residence Life and a report should be filed with Simpson College Security.

Back to Top

Laundry Facilities

Each residence hall, apartment building, and Greek house has coin-operated laundry machines for your use. (Many theme houses have laundry, but the machines are not provided or maintained by the College.) Any malfunction of a College washer or dryer, or need for a refund, should be reported to the Director of Residence Life and your Residence Life staff member. Please contact the Director of Residence Life with the malfunction, machine number, and location, as well as refunds by calling 961-1562 or sending an email to reslife@simpson.edu. Dyes of any kind are not permitted in washing machines. For the convenience of other students and the safety of your property, clothes should not be left unattended.

Back to Top

Lofts

All the beds in the residence halls are bunkable or loftable. Use of homemade or store-bought lofts is not permitted.

Back to Top

Loitering

Loitering in the residential facilities by persons who are not residents of that area is prohibited. Guests must be accompanied by a resident host. Guests in residential facilities must be there for the specific purpose of visiting an identifiable resident.

Back to Top

Musical Equipment/Pianos

Most of the halls have pianos that are available for your use. You are requested to respect the rights of others when using any musical instruments. Pianos or other musical instruments cannot be used after Quiet Hours.

Back to Top

Outside Hall Activities

If your campus organization or group is planning an outdoor activity, consult with the AC or AD of that building(s) to make sure there are no scheduling conflicts and notice, if necessary, is given to the residents. It is important that any outdoor activity not cause unacceptable noise levels or safety problems. Any use of amplified sound must be approved by the Director of Residence Life and/or Director of Student Activities.

Back to Top

Pets

Pets are not allowed in the residential facilities, even to visit, because of health, sanitation, and noise concerns. The only exceptions are fish (in a tank less than 10 gallons) and registered guide dogs accompanying sight-impaired persons. Minimum fine is $50. In addition, a special cleaning charge of $150 is assessed to any residents who violate this policy.

Back to Top

Posting Policy

In order to keep the halls neat and orderly, the following posting policy is in effect for the residential facilities:

- All material must be cleared through the Department of Residence Life. A maximum of 45 copies may be left at the Department of Residence Life to be distributed through student staff to all residential facilities.
- Painter's tape is the only acceptable adhesive to hang materials on walls. Bulletin boards are the preferred locations for hanging all signs. Be careful when placing signs, posters, or banners on painted surfaces.
- Materials cannot be posted on glass surfaces. However, activities may be advertised by painting the glass surfaces on the exterior of the residential facilities. Only tempera paint may be used. The project must be approved one week prior to the event, and the sponsor must clean the windows after the event.
- Before hanging banners, etc., outside any residential building, permission should be obtained from the Director of Residence Life.
- More information on posting specifics can be found in the Simpson College Student Handbook.
- All advertisements must be removed within 48 hours after the event.
- Any advertisement that is not posted according to the guidelines will be removed.

Back to Top

Private/Single/Medical Rooms

Students requiring a private room for medical reasons, must submit a Medical Single application prior to March 1 each year. Medical singles granted one year does not guarantee a medical single the following year. Medical single applications must be accompanied by substantiating written documentation from a medical or mental health professional. Please speak directly to the Director of Residence Life to discuss your needs.

Private rooms for non-medical need are generally not available due to space constraints. When space permits, a student may request a private room by payment of an additional fee and permission from the Director of Residence Life. The College reserves the right to consolidate private rooms should crowded conditions exist. Priority for private rooms will be given in this order: medical need, nontraditional (25 years or older) students, seniors, juniors, and sophomores.

Back to Top

Programming

Programming in residential facilities is a comprehensive venture planned and implemented by your residence life staff and area/apartment councils. The purpose of many of the activities is to provide an opportunity for you to be exposed to knowledge, new ideas, different philosophies and thought provoking stimuli as well as provide fun social opportunities.

Back to Top

Proximity (Student ID) Cards & Room Combination Locks

Proximity locks are located on all the primary exterior doors of all residential facilities (except theme houses which use keys). Your proximity (Student ID) card gives you access to those doors. Giving your proximity card to another individual for the purpose of accessing the housing unit constitutes a serious security risk for you and your fellow residents. There will be a $100 maintenance/disciplinary charge and subsequent disciplinary action for the student who loans their proximity card to anyone. You are expected to carry your Student ID with you at all times. Residential students may access all traditional residence halls via their proximity ID cards from 9 a.m. – 10 p.m. Monday through Friday. Proximity Card access for Apartments and College-owned Greek Houses are restricted to their own residents.

Room doors have combination locks. You will be given the combination to your room door when you check-in to your room. It is very important that a student not divulge their room door combination to others. Room door combinations are changed anytime there is a resident who moves out of the room. If a student requests to change their room door combination for other reasons, they will be charged a fee of $15. If a student is irresponsible in their use of their combo lock or giving out information regarding their combo lock, they will be subject to disciplinary action.

Part of the obligation of living in a community is to help safeguard the living environment. Do not prop open exterior doors. You are advised to be security-minded at all times and contact your Residence Life staff or the Office of Security whenever you have concerns or issues regarding your security. The Office of Security hires full-time and student security staff to monitor the outside of buildings as well as to provide an escort for students around campus after dark. The Security Department is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week throughout the year. Their phone is 961-1711.

Back to Top

Public Areas

The custodial staff cleans public areas regularly in all residential facilities except Theme Houses. However, residents are expected to help keep public areas neat and orderly. Personal items should not be left in public areas at any time including patios and decks. Laundry should be removed promptly from laundry rooms and balcony/patio areas. At all times, hallways and stairwells must be kept free of furniture, trash and other objects. Only approved wall hangings will be permitted in hallways. Items found in the hallways and stairwells will be removed.

Hallways and stairwells are common areas designed as passageways and are not for recreational activities or excessive noise. Sports, horseplay, running, screaming, or other games or activities in hallways may be disruptive to residents or harmful to the condition of the building. These activities are prohibited and violate 24-hour "Courtesy Hours".

Common areas of residential facilities may be used for programming activities. Anyone sponsoring activities in common areas must have the approval of the CA, HA, SHC, AC, AD or Director of Residence Life.

Back to Top

Quiet Hours/Courtesy Hours

Residents should observe Courtesy Hours 24 hours a day and maintain reasonable noise levels at all times. This includes keeping noise to a minimum while moving throughout the buildings and hallways, stairwells, and elevators so as not to disturb others. In order to ensure that students have the opportunity to exercise their primary rights to sleep and study in their rooms, Quiet Hours have been established for all on-campus housing. Quiet hours are from 10:00pm to 10:00am daily Sunday through Thursday and 12:00am (midnight) to 10:00am Friday and Saturday. At any time, a floor or building can decide to extend Quiet Hours with appropriate approval. Extended Quiet Hours will be posted in each area as appropriate. During Quiet Hours, noise should be limited to a level which could not possibly disturb the nearest neighbor's attempts to sleep or study. It is suggested that you keep your room door closed during Quiet Hours. Televisions, stereos, and radios must be played at a low volume that cannot be heard outside of your room. This standard is upheld whether or not neighbors are present. Music and noise may not be projected from any residential facility to the outside at any time. (For example, speakers may not be placed in windows.)

Station Square Apartments and Hamilton apartments are 24-hour Quiet Hours facilities.

Tips for Handling Loud Neighbors:

If a resident feels that his/her primary rights to sleep or study is being violated, he/she should follow these guidelines:

Step #1: Speak to the person causing the interference and politely request that the behavior be modified.

Step #2: If the request does not produce satisfactory results, contact a student staff member (CA/HA) on duty for assistance.

Step #3: In more extreme situations when Steps 1 and 2 have not produced satisfactory results, contact Security.

Steps #1-3 should be repeated for each occasion or incident. Remember to treat others as you would like to be treated and that most often people are not trying to disturb you or your neighbors and may need occasional reminders.

Twenty-four hour Quiet Hours are observed during final exams beginning midnight the Friday night prior to finals until the end of the semester.

Back to Top

Repairs & Maintenance

All repair and maintenance needs should be reported to the Campus Services. To place a work order, please call 961-1622 or email jan.keeling@simpson.edu. Emergency repairs occurring outside the hours of operation (7am-4:30pm, Monday through Friday) should be reported to a staff member for further action. Repairs will be completed based on a campus wide priority including urgency, type of repair and date received. Unless it's an emergency, five (5) working days should be allowed for repairs. If repairs have not been made within this time, check with your student staff member, Area Coordinator, or directly with the Campus Services by calling 961-1622.

Students will be charged for any damage or corrective actions taken due to failure to adhere to the room personalization specifications. A student may be required to pay any charges assessed in order to return a room to good condition if the conditions of that room resulted from a student's actions.

Back to Top

Room and Roommate Changes

Room, roommate, or building changes can take place after the first ten (10) calendar days after the academic year begins. You should contact your Area Coordinator (AC) to assist you in facilitating a room change. A Room Change Request form (available from your AC or Student Development) must be completed, and all moves must be approved before the change occurs. Students must follow regular check-in/check-out procedures. The phone numbers will be switched once the Department of Residence Life receives the completed Room Change Request form. Failure to follow any of the above procedures will result in the $25 improper check-in/check-out fine. Multiple room changes within a given year are discouraged. The Department of Residence Life wants students to be happy with their rooms and their roommates and does not try to block any reasonable request for a room change. Every time someone moves out of a room or apartment, the Physical Plant will change the room combination lock at no charge.

Back to Top

Roommate Consolidation

Residents in multiple occupancy units who find themselves without roommates should actively try to find a roommate of their own choosing or else another student may be placed with you. The following options exist:

- Another student may move into the room.
- The remaining student may move into a different room.
- The remaining student will accept other students as assigned.
- The remaining student may be reassigned.
- The remaining student may be charged the private room fee and continue in the same room below normal occupancy (on approval by the Director of Residence Life).

The College reserves the right to consolidate all vacant spaces. Additionally, the College reserves the right to change housing assignments in special circumstances. In these cases, decisions will be made by the Department of Residence Life, and will be communicated clearly to the students affected.

Back to Top

Room Inspection and Search Policy

The College reserves the right to have authorized personnel enter student rooms for the purpose of determining general cleanliness of rooms, to determine the amount of damage and general misuse of College property, to remove electrical equipment or other items not in compliance with the housing contract or hall regulations, to make repairs, to decorate on a scheduled basis, to maintain the general order and security of the hall, to address suspected violations of College regulations and/or city, state, or federal laws, to respond to emergency situations and to conduct other official business. Discretion will be used at all times. Whenever possible, the room will be entered when the student is present.

Back to Top

Room Selection

Simpson College has a Room Selection process for current first-years, sophomores, and juniors, to pick rooms for the following academic year. Applications for Theme Houses, Picken Floor Draw, Medical Singles, and Squatting are available immediately at the beginning of Spring Semester. Lottery numbers and Room Selection applications are available mid-February, and actual Room Selection takes place after Spring Break. In general, members of Greek chapters are expected to live in their chapter residence. Details about Room Selection and all residential facilities are available online at www.simpson.edu/reslife/room/.

Back to Top

Smoking

Smoking is not allowed on any college property according to Iowa State Law.

Back to Top

Solicitation

The College does not allow door-to-door solicitation of products or services in the halls. Printed material may not be distributed under a student's door without the approval of the Department of Residence Life. The Department of Residence Life must approve fundraising activities sponsored by campus organizations if the location is in a residential facility. Furthermore, student rooms are not to be used for commercial solicitation or enterprises. This policy applies to all campus organizations as well as off-campus groups or individuals.

Back to Top

Staff Selection

Each year Residence Life hires students to serve as CAs (Community Advisors), HAs (House Assistants), PAs (Program Assistants), and for the following year SHCs (Student Hall Coordinators). Applications are available at the beginning of each Spring Semester. Applications, deadlines, and Job Descriptions can be found online at www.simpson.edu/reslife/staff.html.

Back to Top

Storage

Due to limited space, storage facilities are not available for any students except international students. Residents need to keep all their furnishings in their rooms and only bring personal items that their room can accommodate.

Back to Top

Summer Housing

Summer housing is available each year for Simpson students in one of our apartment buildings. Applications are available in March and housing assignments are made in May. The Summer Rate is determined each year in March. If you work on campus 24+ hours/week and have it verified, the rate is reduced to half of the regular rate. Students must move into their summer apartment the day after graduation and move out or to their fall location the 2nd Saturday of August (to accommodate early arrivals). Charges for Summer Housing end the last Sunday before classes being in the fall, or when students would otherwise arrive on campus had they not been in Summer Housing.

Back to Top

Telephones & Voice Mail

Telephone lines are provided in your room/apartment/house as a service. The College is not responsible for repairing instruments or phone jacks damages by the room's occupant(s) without cost. If a resident wishes to have their phone number changed due to harassing phone calls, the resident must file a report with Security..

Back to Top

Vending Machines

Coin-operated vending machines containing snack foods and beverages are located on the lower floors of each traditional hall, and in some apartment buildings. Losses in vending machines should be reported to your Area Coordinator.

Back to Top

Visitation

Policies are established for residential facilities to encourage normal visitation privileges for students and guests. Each living unit is expected to discuss or establish rules of behavior for residents and visitors which reflect acceptable standards of conduct and are supportive of the overall mission of the institution. Cohabitation (living together) and over night visitation by guests of the opposite sex is not allowed. No resident shall be obligated to give up access to use of his/her room in order to acquiesce to the visitation desires of his/her roommate(s). A student's right to study, sleep, and exercise control over his/her personal space takes precedence over the right of others to host guests. It is the responsibility of every resident to respect the right of privacy of his/her roommate. If there are complaints from roommates or others, the resident with visitors is expected to cooperate and compromise in resolving the difficulty. The CA, HA, SHC, and/or AC will handle violations of visitation privileges and unresolved conflicts in accordance with established housing and judicial procedures. The Department of Residence Life may actively intervene if conflicts arise and cannot be resolved between roommates with respect to visitation policy. Final authority for determination and resolution of violations in this area will rest with the Director of Residence Life.

Back to Top

Windows, Ledges, Decks, Porches or Balconies

Window screens may not be unfastened or removed or else you will be fined $50. In addition, residents will be charged for screen repair and/or replacement.

In some apartments you may have a deck or a porch. The following guidelines apply to these areas:

- Alcohol (even if you are 21) is not allowed in these areas.
- At no time are any objects to be thrown from these areas.
- Trash should be taken to dumpster and not left on the balcony
- Gas and/or charcoal grills are not allowed due to fire hazards- there are grills located near most residential facilities.
- Quiet/courtesy hours are in effect in these areas. Please be aware that noise travels far outside.

College liability insurance does not cover accidents occurring from the use of windows, ledges, roofs, balconies or decks. Individuals and/or groups wishing to hang banners off these areas must obtain permission from and make arrangements through the AD, AD, or Director of Residence Life.

Check-Out Checklist: Planning ahead for the end of the year!

When looking ahead to the end of the year, you may be wondering how you'll ever be able to accomplish all the tasks necessary at the end of the semester or May Term. The key is careful planning. Before you are immersed in sessions of intense studying for finals, begin listing all the tasks that need to be done and a timetable for completing them.

Use this checklist to help you get started:

Things To Do Before Finals Week:

- Make travel arrangements now. Halls close at the end of Fall Semester at 6:00pm on the last day of Finals. Hall close at the end of the year at 6:00pm on the last day of May Term.
- Begin packing now. Ship home things you won't need (clothing, books, etc.) or plan to take a load home on a weekend prior to Finals Week. Boxes may be hard to find later -- start collecting them now.
- Study! You'll be busy during Finals Week dealing with last minute details. Don't put off all your studying until then!
- Watch for signs announcing the time and place of an informational meeting discussing check-out procedures. A lot of important information that can make your check-out faster and easier will be given out at this time.
- Sign up with your CA or HA for a checkout time on the Friday before finals (Fall or Spring semester) or the Friday before the last week of May Term with your desired checkout time.
- Carefully read the check-out instructions and checklist distributed to you from your CA or HA and posted on your floor or building. If you have questions, ask your staff member.

Things To Do During Finals Week:

- Observe special 24-hour Quiet Hours designated for finals week. Tell family and friends who may be helping you move about these hours and request their cooperation in keeping the halls quiet for those who are still studying.
- Take your textbooks to the Bookstore "Buy Back" program. Watch your bulletin boards for more information.
- Take a study break and watch for special programs sponsored by the Department of Residence Life.
- Be ready to checkout at the time you agreed to be with your CA, or HA.
- Make certain all your belongings are out of the room.
- Make sure the room is clean (even if you are the first one to check out)!!
- Have a safe trip home!

Housing Agreement – Terms and Conditions

All full-time unmarried students who do not live at home or with immediate relatives are required to live in college residence facilities or fraternity or sorority houses. Exceptions to these rules are made for seniors, students over the age of 23, veterans, married students, students with dependent children living with them, and for other unique and necessary circumstances.

1. CONDITIONS OF PREMISES: STUDENT and COLLEGE agree to keep premises in same condition as when rented, reasonable wear and tear excepted. STUDENT should inspect premises prior to occupancy. Any prior damages must be noted by the STUDENT in writing to the COLLEGE in the first seven (7) days of occupancy. COLLEGE agrees to provide housekeeping services in public areas of the residence halls.

2. CONDUCT: STUDENT shall observe all rules and regulations of Simpson College as stated in the Simpson College Student Handbook, the Residence Life Handbook, and this contract.
3. OCCUPANCY: It is agreed that only the STUDENT (and other STUDENTS assigned by the COLLEGE in the case of multiple occupancy units) will occupy said premises during the terms of the lease. STUDENT may occupy a double occupancy unit as a single occupancy unit upon payment of one and one-half (1 1/2) times the double occupancy charge. Quadruple occupancy units may not be occupied as a single unit.
4. VACANCIES: If vacancies occur in multiple occupancy units, the remaining STUDENTS agree to find other roommates, accept other STUDENTS as assigned, or be reassigned unless the single occupancy has been approved by the Director of Residence Life and the additional charge has been paid. The COLLEGE reserves the right to consolidate all vacant spaces.
5. FURNISHINGS: COLLEGE agrees to furnish the following items for each tenant's use: window treatments, one desk and chair, dresser space and one bed with mattress. COLLEGE further agrees to provide and maintain windows and working door locks.
6. KEYS and COMBINATIONS: COLLEGE agrees to issue keys, proximity cards, or combinations to the STUDENT. Damaged keys shall be replaced by COLLEGE free of charge upon presentation of the damaged key. In case of lost or stolen keys, the STUDENT agrees to pay a replacement charge of fifty dollars ($50). In case of lost or stolen cards, the STUDENT agrees to pay a replacement charge of fifteen dollars ($15). In case of requested room combination change, the STUDENT agrees to pay a fifteen dollar ($15) re-combination charge.
7. PERSONAL PROPERTY: COLLEGE specifically accepts no liability for damage to or loss of personal property of the STUDENT whether in the rented premises or in storage for any cause whatsoever. STUDENT shall provide insurance on his or her own personal property if STUDENT desires. COLLEGE specifically accepts no responsibility for any property left by STUDENT after termination of occupancy.
8. ACCESS TO PREMISES: COLLEGE will make a room check or search only under the most extreme conditions and then in accordance with the conditions stated in the Student Handbook. COLLEGE shall have access to the rented premises at all reasonable times for purposes of inspecting said premises for damage, cleanliness, and for maintenance requirements. The COLLEGE reserves the right to enter premises without the consent of STUDENT if COLLEGE believes that an emergency exists with respect to the life of the STUDENT, or to maintain property, or so that repairs may be affected, or to ensure compliance with college and residence hall policies.
9. DAMAGE: STUDENT shall be liable for all damages beyond reasonable wear and tear. Damage to a rental unit shared by more than one person shall be shared equally by all STUDENTS of the unit, except in cases where damage can be specifically attributed to one STUDENT. The COLLEGE shall furnish the STUDENT with a statement of damage charges assessed following the termination of lease. Such charges shall represent the fair and reasonable value of repairs incurred. Each STUDENT shall be assessed a $150 security deposit at the beginning of the original college enrollment. Said deposit will be held in the STUDENT'S account during the time of enrollment and will be applied toward any damages incurred. In the event of such damages, the appropriate charge for repairs will be assessed to the STUDENT(S) account(s) and billed to the STUDENT(S) for payment at that time. In this way the original deposit is maintained until termination of enrollment. If a damage charge exceeds the amount of the deposit, it will be billed as stated above. Damage which occurs in the public areas of the residence halls is considered general hall damage. All students residing in the residence hall which incurs general hall damage are responsible for such damage. At the beginning of each term STUDENTS shall be assessed a ten dollar ($10) fee. All student fees collected will be held in a damage fund for each hall. Unidentified general hall damage costs will be deducted from the hall damage fund. After all general hall damages are paid, any excess money left in the hall damage fund will be transferred to the hall activity account. In the event that general hall damage costs exceed the amount available in the hall damage fund, the excess charges will be divided by the number of residents to determine the individual damage charge per student. Damage costs exceeding the hall fund and requiring individual student billing will result in a minimum charge of five dollars ($5) per resident.
10. ROOM ACCOMMODATIONS: The COLLEGE agrees to provide the following room accommodations: a) for the FALL TERM, room accommodations begin at 8:00 a.m. one day prior to fall term classes and end at 6:00 p.m. on the last complete day of term exams; b) for the SPRING TERM, room accommodations begin at noon the day prior to the beginning of term classes and end at 6:00 p.m. on the last complete day of term exams; c) for the MAY TERM, room accommodations carry through from spring term and end at 6:00 p.m. on the last complete day of term exams (students involved in commencement excepted). Any exceptions to this schedule must be approved by the Director of Residence Life. Fall, Thanksgiving, Winter and Spring recesses (dates are published in the catalog) are excluded from this agreement and the individual student is responsible to find accommodations during these periods. Theme houses remain open during these periods. Students who would like the privilege to remain on campus during the recess periods and who are not required to be on campus for an approved college activity (academic, athletic or co-curricular requirement) will be subject to reassignment for the recess period, will be charged approximately ten dollars ($10) per night for the duration of their stay, and must seek and be granted prior approval by the Director of Residence Life.
11. FOOD SERVICE: COLLEGE agrees to provide the following food service: a) for the FALL TERM beginning one day prior to fall term classes and continuing while classes are in session; b) for the SPRING TERM beginning the first day of spring classes and continuing while classes are in session; c) for the MAY TERM continuing from the SPRING TERM and while classes are in session. All students residing in residence halls are required to have a meal contract unless excused for special medical or dietary reasons. Such requests may be made on a petition form available from the Department of Residence Life. An additional charge will be made for board provided prior to or subsequent to the dates as determined above. Meals missed because of special diets, religious beliefs and activities, employment or class scheduling during meal times are not refundable. Residents who have any of the above conflicts may request a sack lunch or dinner each day of the conflict. Such request must be made to the Food Service Director 24 hours in advance and picked up by the resident. Pro-rated board refunds will be made due to illness or accident to residents confined to a hospital or detained at home provided that it is for a period of fourteen (14) or more consecutive days and provided that a doctor's statement is presented. Most special diets, whether temporary or continuous, which cannot be satisfied within the limits of the regular menus, cannot be provided in the food service.
12. CANCELLATIONS: The COLLEGE agrees that the following shall be just cause for canceling this agreement: a) marriage; b) medical cause verified by a doctor's signature; c) withdrawal, suspension or leave of absence from the College; d) participation in off-campus programs of the College except during the May Term (During May Term there can be a board refund for those residents who will be off-campus); e) not registering for any term covered by the contract; f) permission of the COLLEGE to live off-campus.
