SIMPSON COLLEGE

Join other teens, ages 15-18, for a one week camp at Simpson College. You will expand and improve your theatrical skills—performance and technical—during an enjoyable, dynamic, intense week of training and instruction.

In keeping with Simpson College's liberal arts philosophy, participants will attend process-oriented workshops in both technical theatre and performance culminating in an "Open Classroom" where students will showcase their work for family and friends.

Performance

- Work on and perform a monologue to use at future auditions.
- Learn to explore your vocal and physical instruments through improvisation, vocal exercises, creative movement and relaxation exercises.
- Develop techniques in areas such as directing or acting styles.
- Show your stuff at evening Cabarets.

Design and Technical Theatre

- Learn important techniques in the creation of such elements as scenery, lighting or costumes.
- Develop a design project.
